

Yanks Bombing Romania

LONDON, May 5 (INS)—The German DNB agency reported today that American bombers were sighted over Romania during the afternoon. The DNB's air correspondent reported: "In the early afternoon German fighter forces together with anti-aircraft batteries took up the battle against North American bomber formations which under thick cloud cover flew into Romanian territory. Already on their way to the targets the enemy air formations were engaged in fierce aerial combats."

Jap Sea Lord Dies in Action

NEW YORK, May 5 (AP)—The Tokyo radio announced today that Adm. Mineichi Koga, commander of the Japanese combined fleet, had been killed on active duty, less than a year after his predecessor, Adm. Isoroku Yamamoto, had met a similar death.

A broadcast recorded by U. S. government monitors quoted an Imperial headquarters communique as saying that Koga had "died at his post in March of this year while directing general operations from an airplane at the front."

The wording of the communique bore a striking similarity to a Tokyo communique of May 21, 1943 announcing Yamamoto's death in a warplane the previous April "while directing general strategy on the front line."

Admiral Soemu Toyoda, commander of the Yokosuka naval base, has been named to succeed Koga and "already is in command of the combined fleet," Tokyo said.

The broadcast added that Admiral Zengo Yoshida, who previously had been in command of the Japanese fleet in Chinese waters, has been appointed commander of the Yokosuka naval station.

A later Japanese broadcast said Maj.-Gen. Kumao Oohashi and Maj.-Gen. Yoshitada Shimokawa had died in April of illnesses contracted "while on active duty" and had been posthumously promoted to the rank of lieutenant-general.

Oohashi, whom the broadcast described as "chief of staff of a front line army corps" and as "head of an army unit in China" was said to have died on April 14, while Shimokawa, "commander of a unit on the front," died on April 19.

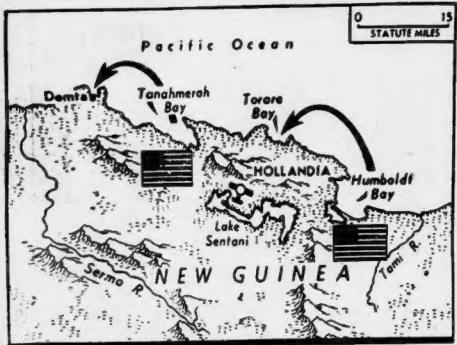

The broadcast reported that Lieut.-Gen. Chunkichi Ochiai had been appointed commander of the Asahikawa division.

Koga was the second commander of the Japanese combined fleet to die a violent death since the beginning of the war.

The Tokyo radio's announcement of the death of Yamamoto was received at the time by naval officers in Washington with some skepticism.

Some authorities suggested that Yamamoto had been identified with so many Japanese reverses that he might have committed hara-kiri or might have died a natural death.

Yanks Hammer Pas-de-Calais

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

LONDON, May 5 (AP)—American Liberators bombed German military installations in the Pas-de-Calais area of France before breakfast today, getting the twenty-first day of the Allies' pre-invasion aerial offensive off to an early start after Allied planes from Italy bombed Budapest last night.

The four-engined sky giants roared across the English channel in a force officially described as small, indicating that fewer than 200 Liberators made the hop.

Thunderbolt fighter-bombers of the Ninth U. S. Air Force attacked rail yards at Valenciennes and Somain in northern France. Once again, the Germans failed to put up even token resistance. Flak was only moderate.

Mitchells and Bostons of the RAF, struck railway yards at Cambrai in northern France. They heap new destruction on the already heavily pounded supply routes of Nazi forces behind the Atlantic wall.

The U. S. planes went out so early they passed homeward bound British Mosquitos which last night attacked objectives in western Germany. Other British planes laid mines in enemy waters.

The German communique identified the Mosquito targets last night as Cologne and Mannheim. The Budapest attack was termed "minor."

The blow against targets in Budapest, the capital of Hungary, was the second successive night stab into the Balkans for Allied heavy and medium bombers from Italy.

In last night's raid on Budapest British bombers poured block-busters and incendiaries on rail yards on the main east-west line from Germany and Vienna to the Romanian front.

New 5th Army Tilt Near Adriatic

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, May 5 (AP)—A renewal of fighting on the Adriatic end of the Italian battle line was announced today in a headquarters statement which said a German raiding party penetrated Eighth Army positions in the Ortona area and was driven off in a sharp skirmish.

Both sides suffered casualties as the Allied forces restored their positions, the announcement said.

Allied and German artillery traded punches in the Cassino area of the Fifth Army's main front.

U. S. Bombers Wreck Blocks in Rome

LONDON, May 5 (INS)—The German transoceanic communique reported today that whole blocks of houses were destroyed when several waves of United States bombers attacked the outskirts of Rome yesterday.

Casualties were reported.

Trial Invasion Fails, Nazis Say

By CHARLES A. SMITH

LONDON, May 5 (INS)—A trial invasion landing by Allied forces in western Europe was reported by the Nazis today. The Anglo-American general staff, according to the Nazi-controlled Vichy German western defenses and take preliminary measures for an offensive by carrying out a "demonstrative landing."

The attempt, Vichy continued, quoting Stockholm advices, did not achieve expected results and the British and Americans already have re-embarked. The Nazi report did not attempt to explain where the purported operation took place.

Absolutely no hint of any such operation has been given by Allied quarters. Probability that such trial thrusts may be forthcoming was not excluded, however, since recent pronouncement by Prime Minister Churchill that "there will be many false alarms, many feints and many dress rehearsals."

From inside Europe came dispatches stating that although German anti-invasion forces were ready to combat invasion the Nazis

The Wall That Isn't There?

By MEL MOST

(Former AP Correspondent at Vichy, recently returned from internment in Germany.)

NEW YORK, May 5 (AP)—Hitler's general staff may be staking everything on stopping the invasion short of the Rhine.

This year, before we were released, some volunteers in our group took the interned American children on a picnic to the Rhine, ten miles away. The party saw that the famous Siegfried line of blockhouses and pillboxes had been stripped of guns, that the barbed wire was down, the paths overgrown with grass.

In all of Germany's countless cheap picture weeklies and in the newsreels were allowed to see Goebbels' propaganda crew hammering the public with picture after picture of "Der Atlantik Wall" to stop the invasion.

Watching the pictures carefully, I began to notice that the Nazis were showing the same fortifications over and over again, with trick angle shots to make them seem different.

Our suspicions were emphasized while we were at Biarritz in southern France for the last few days before our release. This was a spot described in the German press as "impenetrably fortified."

The only hotels big enough to hold our group in that bathing resort faced the sea. At first are blacked out all windows looking out the front of the hotel. When we protested, they agreed to open the shutters if the windows stayed shut and nobody looked down the shore.

Nonetheless I managed to get a window open without being observed. There were no great defensive precautions. That was what the Wehrmacht was trying to hide from us.

When we left for Spain arranged-ments were made to move us in the darkest hours of night. But on the 50-minute run to the frontier, the superannuated engine gave out. When they finally got hold of another locomotive the first rays of daylight had come.

And we saw more of what the Wehrmacht had not wanted us to see: barbed wire entanglements and a blockhouse—such was the Atlantic Wall.

What then does the Wehrmacht count on to save Germany? Goebbels has almost hinted at it in his latest propaganda—not defensive fighting or fighting behind walls, at which the Germans do not feel at home, but their own specialty: a violent, offensive attack after the landing.

We found they were gathering troops for this purpose. While 17-year-olds were being mobilized, the age brackets in the death notices of soldiers killed in Russia became steadily higher as older reserves were thrown into action.

The Nazis are getting ready for a knock-down and drag-out fight, not a defensive one. Somewhere between the Atlantic Wall and the old Siegfried Line, they seem to be preparing for a violent battle in which both sides will be on the offensive.

Allies Batter Mandalay Road

KANDY, Ceylon, May 5 (INS)—Strong forces of Allied warplanes, striving to cripple Japanese communications in North Burma, have blasted Mandalay and other key railway facilities.

Gen. Stilwell's Chinese forces have captured the village of In-kangataung, last town blocking the Allied drive on Kamaing, 35 miles west of Myitkyina.

Northwest, Allied jungle troops consolidated newly won strong-points in the Kohima-Imphal sections of the Indian state of Manipur.

At Kohima the Allies repelled thrusts north and south of the base. The situation around Imphal was largely unchanged.

STRATFORD, Ct., May 5 (AP)—General Manager Rex B. Beisel of the Chance-Vought division of the United Aircraft Corp. announced today completion of the 300th F4U-1 Corsair fighter plane.

Germans Hurled Back by Reds

LONDON, May 5 (AP)—German probing attacks southeast of Stanislawow and south of Tiraspol were thrown back yesterday for the second successive day as the lull in ground fighting continued along other positions of the eastern front, Moscow announced today.

Near Stanislawow in the southeast corner of old Poland German attempts to reconnoiter Soviet positions were beaten off in the morning and a Nazi attack against one Russian unit was hurled back in the afternoon, a Soviet communique said. It asserted that about 800 Germans were killed and 12 Nazi tanks were destroyed.

Sixty Germans were declared to have been killed and wounded when Russian troops threw back an enemy reconnaissance detachment south of Tiraspol.

Allies Lay Plan To Occupy Berlin

LONDON, May 5 (INS)—Allied troops will occupy Berlin, prime ministers of the British empire reportedly decided today.

The London Daily Mail's political correspondent, commenting on the dominion premiers' conference, said the commonwealth leaders made clear "there will be no repetition of the great mistake made in the first world war."

"Allied troops will march into Berlin," the correspondent said.

All plans for invasion were reviewed by the prime ministers, who then took up schemes for Europe's rehabilitation.

The premiers previously had been given a broad outline of armistice terms drawn up by Britain, the United States and Russia.

Burned Girl's Hope a Miracle

By PAUL WHELTON and DONALD MacPHAIL

In the frail, tortured form of little 8-year-old Florence Ward, victim of agonizing burns, the flame of life flickered low today at City Hospital while her courageous spirit fought a silent battle for survival.

Deep in the shock period of burns which cover three-fourths of her body, the Woburn girl, through today's critical hours, was on the thin, delicate line between existence and death, with doctors having done all that's humanly possible for her. The rest is left to Nature herself.

Under opiates to spare her full agony and the recipient of 25 blood plasma infusions, Florence will have shown the physicians a miracle if she survives today, it was stated by Dr. George Bottomley, in attendance.

"I find her condition to be very low," Dr. Bottomley said today.

"Her condition, as compared with yesterday, is much more critical. She is right in the thick of the shock period, which is very noticeable. She drowns off. She is going into long comas.

"If she survives today it will truly be a miracle, as you can understand with three-fourths of her body burned.

"If she lasts the next six hours I can probably make a very substantial guess she might last through the night.

"It's just one of those conditions where you have to wait. There's nothing else we can do. We must just sit and watch Nature take its course."

In a demonstration of mass sympathy and generosity without precedent in Boston history, scores of men and women, including service men and women, volunteered their blood for the suffering child.

Telephone operators at the hospital were swamped with calls during the night as hundreds of persons in all parts of Greater Boston asked her condition and offered their blood.

In the first 36 persons who made donations there were a soldier, three sailors, a SPAR and 13 co-workers of Florence's father. He, as well as the mother, suffered burns in attempting to extinguish flames in Florence's clothing after a bottle of fingernail polish was accidentally dropped on a stove.

The mother, Mrs. George Ward, is under treatment in Choate Memorial Hospital, Woburn.

Through the thin gauze and saline covering her lips, Florence pathetically asks about her mother and from time to time has been heard by nurses to repeat her prayers.

The majority of the blood donor volunteers came from the 2300 members of the milk wagon drivers union, AFL, who in a move unequalled in local labor history.

Nurse in Flight From Australia

A seriously ill Army nurse from Roslindale today is winging her way from Australia to set a new record for the longest Army air evacuation flight ever undertaken for a patient's welfare.

The stricken nurse is 2d Lieut. Katherine C. Landrey, 38, of 12 Fowle st., who, before volunteering for the Army, shortly after Pearl Harbor had been attached to the staffs of St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Brighton and the Boston Lying-In Hospital.

Requiring an immediate operation by specialists in this country, Lieut. Landrey will have the distinction of being the first patient brought back to this country in a transpacific flight according to a dispatch from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters in New Guinea which said the plane left Australia this week.

Joy at her homecoming after two years in Australia was mixed with concern for her welfare at her home where she lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Landrey and her sisters Helen and Marie. Her family was unaware of her homecoming until told of the dispatch.

Her brother Paul, 32, is training with an anti-aircraft unit at Camp Davis in North Carolina.

The dispatch did not disclose the nature of her illness.

Divorce Ends 38-Year Union

The 38-year marital partnership of Charles E. Mason, Brookline philanthropist, and Mrs. Elizabeth A. Mason has been ended by a divorce decree awarded to Mason on grounds of extreme cruelty, according to a report from Reno, Nev.

Mason, a wealthy broker and former president of the Massachusetts Golf Assn., maintains a residence in Sargent Crossway, Brookline. The couple were married in Hingham July 15, 1905.

When asked if he had any future marriage plans, Mason said: "That will have to be made known when I return to Massachusetts."

Vacationing Soldier Saves Four Youths

CAMP EDWARDS, May 5 (AP)—Staff Sergt. John H. Daly, a mess sergeant for one of the units in Camp Edwards, spent a busman's holiday when he went home on furlough last week.

A former life guard at Lake Quinsigamond, Worcester, he was standing on a wharf at the lake when he saw a rowboat and then a canoe capsized, tossing three girls and a youth into the water. He rescued the four young people.

Warm Forecast For Hub Today

Another hot day, with the temperature due to hit the 81 degree mark again in Boston and along the coast, and into the high 80s and 90s inland, was today's weather bureau forecast.

But with only 47 days to go before the first of summer, the weatherman added a cheery note. A high deck of clouds is expected to roll in late this afternoon and with it "somehow" cooler weather for this evening and tomorrow.

For the most part today, however, the weather is scheduled to duplicate yesterday's performance when the thermometer set the season's high of 81 in Boston 91 in Bedford for the highest in Massachusetts, and 92 in Concord, N. H., for the high mark in New England.

Beaches were crowded again today as thousands took advantage of ideal bathing weather. Two drownings marked the first day of the heat spell in Boston. John Wharton, 21, of Margin st., Hyde Park, perished in the Neponset river after being stricken with cramps, and Herbert Pike, 17, of Burnett st., Jamaica Plain, lost his life in the Charles river, when a canoe overturned.

Move to Save Art of Europe

NEW YORK, May 5 (AP)—The New York Times says that plans have been completed here and in Washington to prevent unnecessary destruction of cultural art and religious treasures of Europe.

A military mission, headed by a high Army staff officer, the Times says, is about to go overseas and is provided with authority to give necessary orders and equipped with thorough documentation assembled by commissions on the sites and natures of the treasures.

The research task, the Times says, was done at the library of the Frick Museum here under direction of Sumner Crosby of Harvard University.

Death Snarls Big Spy Trial

WASHINGTON, May 5 — The grim reaper further complicated the bizarre mass sedition trial here today.

The number of defendants, charged with conspiring to set up a Nazi form of government and impairing the morale of the armed forces, was reduced to 29 when Elmer J. Garner, 80-year-old Kansas publisher, was found dead in his rooming house.

Garner was indicted on 10 counts in connection with his publication of "Publicity" in Wichita, Kan.

Weight of Siamese Twins Shows Drop

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., May 5 (AP)—The weight of Sandra and Joyce Stierly was down to eight pounds today, four less than when they were born, their bodies lying below the waist, last Sunday.

Their temperature hovered between 103 and 104 degrees.

Items from the rationing program between now and election day.

Andresen's prediction came in a speech prepared for House delivery in which by inference he accused the New Deal of using the OPA rationing program as a wedge to secure a fourth term for President Roosevelt.

He further held that should Mr. Roosevelt be re-elected, "OPA shortly thereafter will reinstate and make more drastic all rationing policies to further regiment and socialize the economy of our country."

Before Andresen made his assertions, War Food Administrator Marvin Jones said the food situation is good at this time but warned "it will be even harder to meet our needs this year than it was last year."

OPA and WFA spokesmen said food rationing should not be viewed as "practically ever" because of the suspension of ration points for all meats except choice beef. WFA experts predicted less meat for civilians next year and one OPA staff member said this may lead to "tightened rations on meat next winter."

Andresen said he would like to know "who issues the order to Chester Bowles to virtually discontinue the rationing of all foods."

Three Patrolmen Get Penalty Duty

Three Brighton patrolmen, found guilty by a trial board of neglect of duty in failing to find a 13-year-old boy who broke into a store a month ago, today faced 315 hours each of punishment duty and 30-day suspensions.

Police Commr. Sullivan imposed the penalties on Patrolmen Henry E. Kreinsen, John J. McCarthy and Francis X. McKenna. The commissioner said he had rejected the board's finding in the case of Sgt. Joseph McCleary, who will be given a personal hearing Tuesday.

Lowell School Head Demoted to Teacher

LOWELL, May 5—With only a handful of spectators present, the school committee today ordered demotion of School Supt. Vincent M. McCartin from his $7000-a-year post to that of teacher, after a year of feuding between the school head and the board.

At the same time Raymond A. Sullivan, headmaster of Lowell High School for the past 10 years, was demoted to teacher.

Elected to succeed McCartin was James F. Conway, submaster at the high school for many years and head of Lowell Teachers' Organization. Joseph G. Pyne, high school submaster, was promoted to Sullivan's position.

No charges were placed against the pair. Mayor Woodbury F. Howard, who proposed the demotions, said the action was taken "for the good of the school system." The vote of the committee on both demotions was 4-3.

Several previous attempts were made to demote McCartin and Sullivan but public opposition forestalled the move. McCartin, head of the school system for 12 years, will receive $2800 in his new position.

Howard said he proposed demotion rather than dismissal "because the school committee has no protection against court action." The demotions become effective Monday, the committee said.

Custodian Post Exam June 10

Ulysses J. Lupien, state director of civil service, today announced a qualifying examination will be held June 10 for the $6000-a-year post of head school custodian to which the Boston school committee appointed James S. Reardon, brother-in-law of Dr. Patrick J. Foley, committee chairman.

This move, following closely Lupien's asserted intention of holding up Reardon's pay, came while both the civil service head and school committee members threatened court action.

The school committee contends the post of head custodian is administrative and not subject to civil service regulations. In appointing their chairman's brother-in-law, members said their intent was to provide a test case, and Dr. Foley added that if Lupien holds up Reardon's pay, the committee will seek an injunction to restrain him.

"This may be a procedure for the supreme court to advise us on," Foley said.

Foley contended that "there is no civil service examination to fit the job and I still think Reardon is the best man even if he is my brother-in-law."

Siamese Twins, Lose Weight, Cling to Life

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., May 5 (AP)—The condition of the Stierly Siamese twins remained the same today as the two tiny blonde girls entered their sixth day of life.

Their temperature hovered between 103 and 104 degrees and their weight was down to eight pounds, four less than when they were born.

Sandra and Joyce, the names given the girls yesterday by their mother, 24-year-old Mrs. Mary Stierly, can't possibly live, Dr. J. Elmer Gotwals, chief physician of the Phoenixville hospital said. They were born in the hospital last Sunday.

Greenwich Village Has Gun Battle

U. S. Protects Ward Employees

CHICAGO, May 5 (AP)—Employees of the government-controlled Montgomery Ward & Co.'s Chicago properties, under new regulations contained in a federal poster, may not be dismissed by company officials without government approval.

The new rules posted in the big mail order house were disclosed yesterday after the arrest of a company official as he was removing one of the placards. They set forth that dismissals of employees since the government took control April 26 were voided and none would be valid without approval of federal officials in charge of the facilities.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation arrested the company executive, Paul D. Sowell, assistant mail order operating manager. Arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on a charge of "taking, purloining, stealing or injuring property of the U. S. Government," Sowell pleaded innocent and was released on a $250 bond pending a hearing May 11.

The notices, addressed to company executives, said that under a temporary restraining order issued by Federal Judge William H. Holly April 27, they were enjoined from interfering with federal operation of the facilities. They said numerous employees "have been and are being discharged by Ward officials 'without the knowledge, consent or approval of the operating manager for the United States'."

Judge Holly announced his decision in the injunctive dispute would be given Wednesday instead of Monday, as previously planned, because of the voluminous briefs offered for study.

Boy of 13 in Jail Cell Tells How He Courted Bride, 21

DENVER, May 5 (AP)—A story of courtship conducted "after school and on holidays" was told in Denver County jail by a 13-year-old bridegroom and his 21-year-old wife where they awaited today the arrival of Los Angeles authorities.

"IT WAS LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT," said this 21-year-old woman, known in Los Angeles as Mrs. Elaine Monfredi, as she explained her elopement with 14-year-old Ellsworth Wisecarver. The mother of two children, she faces a charge of child stealing.

Associated Press Wirephoto

The bride, Elaine Monfredi, asked, "What difference does it make about our ages? We're in love." Her youthful bridegroom, Ellsworth Wisecarver, asserted his devotion, declaring, "Elaine is my first and only sweetheart—I don't know how I could live without her."

The couple had only 40 cents when Denver detectives, in response to requests by Los Angeles police, accosted the pair as they inquired about a telegram at a Denver hotel yesterday.

Her mother, Mrs. M. McEntee, told Los Angeles police she received a telegram from Elaine Wednesday from Albuquerque, N. M., saying:

"Mom—broke—wire cash immediately to Denver, Col."

Detective Capt. James E. Childers said the young woman told him she had only lived as a common-law wife with James Monfredi in Compton, Cal., and she had not married him. It was in Compton the couple met, Ellsworth being a student near her home.

Elaine and Ellsworth, both giving their ages as 21, were married April 29 in Yuma, Ariz. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Mildred Wisecarver, filed a child-stealing complaint in Los Angeles against her son's wife, declaring "I want him brought back home."

To which young Wisecarver commented:

"I don't want to go back to Compton and I don't want our marriage annulled."

His wife told Childers she is the mother of two daughters, Elaine, 2, and Judith, 6 months.

In Los Angeles, Monfredi said: "She can choose between me and this boy—she can stay away or come back."

Ted Williams Wins Bride in Florida

Ted Williams, formerly "The Kid" of the Boston Red Sox and now Lieut. Theodore Williams of the Marine Air Corps, not only won his Navy wings at Pensacola, Fla., last Tuesday, but also his bride; it was disclosed today.

The baseball hero and his "steady girl friend," Miss Doris Soule, a winsome, 25-year-old blue-eyed brunette, of Princeton, Minn., were married in Pensacola shortly after he received his commission as a marine aviator.

A telegram from their honeymoon hideaway to the bride's mother, Mrs. Ruby Soule, revealed their marriage, according to a Minneapolis Morning Tribune story carried by the Associated Press. The newspaper said the mother, who is employed in Minneapolis, declared the telegram from her daughter reported they were wed, but did not disclose their whereabouts.

However, their secret marriage came as no surprise because two years ago this month Ted had admitted their engagement in Boston.

At that time he also announced they'd be married as soon as he'd won his wings, because Navy regulations forbid a flying cadet to marry.

"But don't expect any engraved invitations or public announcement," the Kid told sports writers, "You'll know about it when it's all over."

Williams and Miss Soule first met in 1938 when he was playing for Minneapolis. Later, she came to Boston to work as a hotel cashier and in September, 1942, Ted presented her a glittering diamond ring that sealed their troth. Before that, the Kid referred to her only as "my steady girl." She lived in Boston, in Newbury st., with her brother, Donald.

Doris, who frankly admits she "hates baseball," said in an interview when their engagement became known that on their first date, "I just couldn't stand him."

"We had arguments all that first evening and I told him I never wanted to see him again," Doris recalled. "But I guess when Ted fixes on an idea he stays with it. Anyway, he came right back the next day as if nothing had happened. I think he'll make a good husband."

Lieut. Williams has been appointed a flying instructor.

Soldier at Side As His Baby Dies

RAHWAY, N. J., May 5 (AP)—With her soldier-father, who was returned from the South Pacific on Presidential order, and her mother at her bedside, 19-month-old Theresa Truax, who had been suffering from leukemia since March, died.

Dr. Edward Blakely attributed death to a myocardial failure, rather than the leukemia. He said the child had developed measles and bronchitis.

Staff Sgt. Elmer Truax arrived last Saturday after a trip by plane and train from his Coast Artillery platoon in the South Pacific fighting area.

Neponset V. F. W. Changes Its Name

As a result of a change in the charter of the Neponset Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the organization is now named the Henry J. Dixon Post, in honor of the late veteran and Boston attorney.

Amory Moulton has been re-elected commander and the other officers include: John Perry, senior vice-commander; Edward McLaughlin, junior vice-commander; Robert Kelley, chaplain; John Lawton, quartermaster; Abe Millen, adjutant; and Walter Mitchell, by plane and train from his Coast Artillery platoon in the South Pacific fighting area.

Judy Garland Asks Divorce

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

(Copyright, 1944, by Los Angeles Examiner)

HOLLYWOOD, May 5—Judy Garland, screen star, will appear in court today to ask for a divorce from Sergt. David Rose.

The actress and the music composer parted a year ago, but the legal papers were not signed until yesterday.

Rose was represented by his attorney, Arnold Grant, who came here from New York in the interests of his client.

Identify Girl By Phone Clue

Brought back to consciousness by the clue of a telephone number which she remembered, Miss Gertrude Dwyer, 24, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William J. Dwyer of Mountfort st., Back Bay, was reported recovering today from an amnesia attack.

Police found her wandering in a dazed condition on Beacon st., Brookline, and removed her to Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. The girl said she couldn't recall her name or address, but murmured a telephone number.

Nurses checked on the number and this led to her identification. She was later released to the care of her parents.

$400,000,000 Objection

WASHINGTON (AP)—Interior Secretary Ickes objected to House-approved legislation authorizing a $400,000,000 postwar rivers and harbors program on the ground it reverses congressional policies and violates "historic American land policy."

Accused as Woman Fagin, Mother of 4 Faces Court

Accused of playing the role of a woman Fagin, who trained a 15-year-old boy to steal packages from the parcel room of a downtown department store, Mrs. Ann Antonitus, 28, of Hampshire st., Cambridge, faced Municipal court today on a charge of receiving stolen goods.

Police also brought a second charge, contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile, against the young woman, who is the mother of four children.

Arrest of the boy, who lives in a Somerville house a short distance from Mrs. Antonitus' apartment, led to the uncovering of the long, methodical series of thefts, police said.

Sergt. Andrew Hagerty and special officers of the Milk station, after questioning the boy, said they went to Mrs. Antonitus' home and found nearly $900 worth of women's apparel which had been reported stolen from various Boston establishments.

Police quoted the boy as saying Mrs. Antonitus instructed him how to steal the articles and in return she gave him money, Jack

Coleman Notes Read in Court

The reading of portions of a 45-page statement given to state police by Patrick A. "Paddy" Coleman, was expected to mark the resumption in Suffolk superior court today of the trial of 18 men on charges of conspiracy and registering bets.

Coleman's statement, consisting of a detailed transcript of questioning of Coleman following his arrest during a raid last Nov. 23, was the subject of heated protests by defense attorneys when an effort was made to introduce it during the testimony of State Police Sergt. Leo Riley.

Judge Joseph L. Hurley looked the document over and told Asst. Atty. Gen. Arnold H. Salisbury, 3d, it would be accepted in evidence if Salisbury would mark the passages pertaining to matters at issue.

Sergt. Riley, sole witness for the Commonwealth thus far in the trial, testified that telephone bills made out to Coleman were found in a search of the home of Michael Tudor, one of the defendants, Coleman himself is not on trial because of illness.

Riley said he arrested Tudor in a pharmacy in West Concord st., South End.

Judge Weighs Racing Issue

Following charges that the State Racing Commission "disqualified itself" from acting fairly in setting dog racing dates because two members had connections with dog tracks, the petition of the Hancock Associates, Inc., seeking to force reconsideration of its application for a dog license was under advisement by Judge John E. Swift today.

Atty. Thomas B. Lavalie, representing the Hancock group, named Coms. Charles F. Connors and Bayard Tuckerman as the "disqualified" members, and accused the commission of not acting "impartially in the exercise of a wise and honorable discretion."

The Hancock group wants the dates granted the Revere, Raynham and Dighton dog tracks revoked and its application for a dog license in Berkshire County considered.

Walsh Leads Unopposed Delegation

U. S. Sen. David I. Walsh today stood foremost among the 12 delegates-at-large to the Democratic national convention who ran unopposed in the recent presidential primary election.

The senator, noncommittal concerning the fourth term movement, won 34,723 votes to top the slate. Ex-Gov. Ely, leading New Deal foe, placed fourth with 29,938, with 30,587. Mayor Tobin, pro-Joseph E. Casey, 27,804; ex-Gov. Roosevelt, placed third with 26,732; Judge Frank W. Tomasello, 25,885; William H. Burke, Jr., 25,322; Mrs. Margaret M. O'Riordan, 25,030; following Ely were: Dist. Atty. William J. Foley, 29,288; McCormack, 28,700; and Mathias LaPierre, 23,458.

Second in the voting was Cong. James M. Curley, regarded as unfriendly toward the New Deal.

Job Draft of 4-F's Runs Into Barrier

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—A bill designed to force at least a million 4-F's into war jobs ran up against strong opposition in the Senate Military Committee today despite warm endorsements from the committee's counterpart in the House.

Sen. Kilgore (D.) of West Virginia predicted the Senate group would view the Bailey-Brewster "work or be drafted" proposal with the same lack of enthusiasm that has accompanied 18 months' consideration of the Austin-Wadsworth national service bill, applicable to both men and women. "Any draft of labor that does not include a draft of industry would disrupt production that is truly phenomenal," Kilgore told a reporter. Sen. Johnson (D.) of Colorado added that he could not support the proposal.

Their view contrasted with those expressed yesterday by Chairman May (D.) of Kentucky, of the House military committee, Rep. Costello (D.) of California, whose subcommittee recommended "work or fight" action to end labor turnover, and Rep. Luce (R.) of Connecticut, author of two pending measures dealing with turnover.

All of Novogorod In Ruins, Reds Told

MOSCOW, May 5 (AP)—A state committee investigating German atrocities reported today that the Nazis had virtually destroyed Novogorod, one of the birthplaces of Russian culture.

A four-column report in morning newspapers said only 40 of the city's 2346 houses remained. The 11th century Sofia Cathedral, oldest monument in Russian architecture, was reported destroyed and the ruins systematically pillaged.

V-Mail Will Go All Way by Air

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—Rep. Sundstrom (R.) of New Jersey announced today that after May 15 V-mail from servicemen overseas will go all the way by air. V-mail now is shipped part way by air and part by ordinary mail procedure.

Sundstrom urged that the War Department speed up the V-mail in this manner, at the suggestion of his brother-in-law, Lieut. Will B. Johnstone, Jr., USMC.

Dream of Easy Tax Return Now Nearing Realization

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—The taxpayers' dream—of a March 15 without fearful figures nearer to realization today. The House met to give overwhelming approval to legislation simplifying the tax statutes for 50,000,000 persons.

Leaders expected the measure to pass before nightfall. It then will be sent to the Senate, where swift action also is expected.

Drawn by the House Ways and Means Committee, the bill would relieve some 30,000,000 of the 50,000,000 taxpayers of the necessity of ever computing another income tax return, and simplify payment procedures for the 20,000,000 others.

Beginning next Jan. 1 the present withholding system against wages and salaries would be revised—upward for most taxpayers—to take the full tax liability for persons earning up to $5000. Thus, the withholding levy would become in 1944 the actual tax for these millions of persons, and they would owe no more at the end of the tax year.

There would be no change in amounts held from pay envelopes and salary checks this year, but the government itself would compute the taxes on 1944 income for those with wages and salaries under $5000.

Army Asks for More Paper

Urging wholehearted support of the office waste paper salvage campaign of the Advertising Club of Boston, Col. W. J. Calvert, commanding officer of the Boston Quartermaster Depot, warned today that the paper shortage now is so acute that it threatens to retard shipments of supplies overseas.

"I have a particular interest in your campaign because the Quartermaster Corps purchases a major share of all paper and paper products used by the Army," the colonel said in a letter to the Advertising Club salvage committee.

"I can assure you that the Army has an urgent need for paper, particularly the coarse grades used for packaging which are manufactured from the waste paper you are collecting."

"As an example of how even minor paper salvage can help, let me say that as little as 10 pounds of waste paper is sufficient for conversion into 65 cartons for the Army's 'K' rations. These are being shipped overseas in tremendous quantities to feed American soldiers on the fighting fronts. More than 2000 of 20 mm. shells can be carried in containers which 100 pounds of waste paper will make."

Tito Surrounds Nazi Garrison

LONDON, May 5 (AP)—Partisan forces have surrounded the Yugoslav town of Mrkonjigrad and are laying siege to the German garrison, which is offering strong resistance, a broadcast communique from the headquarters of Marshal Tito said today.

The war bulletin also told of Partisan units smashing into Uzice, 75 miles west of Sarajevo on the main railway to Sofia, and wrecking the station, destroying the town and killing many enemy troops.

Tito's men have gone over to the counterattack in Slavonia near Vocin and forced the Germans and Ustashi to withdraw, the communique said.

A free Yugoslav radio broadcast said Yugoslav Partisans have cut off and are besieging Split, capital of Dalmatia and one of the finest harbors on the Adriatic, and have surrounded Zagreb, Yugoslavia's second city.

A demand by King Peter's government-in-exile for surrender of a $9,500,000 deposit of Yugoslav funds has been rejected by the National Bank of Brazil in an apparent victory for the Partisans.

Holiday Over

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 5 (INS)—Two escaped German prisoners of war were back in the Camp Robinson stockade today, apparently little concerned because of their recapture in a bus. They had a perfectly logical explanation, too, of how they happened to leave their work detail and wander away. "We wanted to see the pretty girls," they said.

Decisive Battle Looms in China

CHUNGKING, May 5 (AP)—A new threat to the Chinese base of Loyang through Japanese capture of Linju, 60 miles southwest of Chenghsien, was announced today by a Chinese army spokesman as the enemy continued a two-way drive along the north-south Peiping-Hankow railway.

The spokesman said the Japanese were trying to locate the main strength of the Chinese forces for "a decisive battle" in the area of Loyang.

G.O.P. Will Call On Youth Power

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—The Republicans appeared today to have developed a new campaign theme to offset Democratic claims of "experience" by proposing to put younger and fresher men in national offices.

Although national committee officials said it was mere coincidence that three high ranking party members have sounded this note recently, an influential Republican declared there was no doubt that if President Roosevelt and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York became the opposing nominees much more will be said on the subject.

Dewey himself brought the matter up inferentially in his April 27 speech on foreign policy in New York when he blamed "tired war leaders" for the failure to make a lasting peace after the last war.

There has been every indication that the Democrats will stress the experience of their officeholders as one of their major campaign points.

National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan has advanced this argument in several speeches, asserting that the Republicans were offering "untested" men for positions of great responsibility in wartime. He added at Chicago this week that his best information was that President Roosevelt, who has been in the South resting after an attack of bronchitis, is in splendid health.

Real Spirit

LONDON, May 5 (AP)—A large number of American merchant seamen assigned to homeward bound vessels are pleading daily with war shipping administration officials to allow them to transfer to craft scheduled to take part in the invasion and some even are jumping ship to remain here.

Strikes Curb Work In 16 Detroit Plants

DETROIT, May 5 (INS) War work in 16 Detroit plants was hampered today as 10,000 employees continued to remain idle as the result of labor disputes.

At the Republic Aircraft Corp., 1100 workers returned after voting to end a two-week walkout. The action was taken by members of UAW-CIO Local 817 at the order of the War Labor Board and the threat of disciplinary action against local officers and strike leaders by international officers.

Seven hundred other employees joined in the wave of strikes in the Detroit area when they walked out at the Riley Stoker Corp., which is engaged 100 per cent in war work.

Still shut down were the McGraw and military plants of the Kelsey Hayes Wheel Corp. with 3500 idle and the DeSoto Warren plant, with 2500 on strike.

No settlement appeared to be in sight in the strike of 3150 members of the Foreman's Ass'n of America, affecting the Briggs Manufacturing Co., the Murray Corp., the Packard Motor Co. and the Hudson Motor Car Co. Production was slowed at 11 plant units of these companies.

In two other stoppages, 550 workers were idle at the Chicago Rawhide Manufacturing Co. and 14 mechanics walked out in the East Side service branch of the General Motors.

GI Bill to Emerge In Mystery Version

By FRANK REILLY

Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 5—When the "G-I bill of rights" is reported out of committee Wednesday, Cong. John E. Rankin's war veterans' committee will present a mystery version of the measure to the House.

Rankin's group has whipped up something under the disguise of the same G-I bill that the Senate passed without a dissenting vote more than a month ago. It will bear the same legislative schedule number and follow the same broad outline, but that's as far as anyone, outside the committee, knows about it for sure.

Printed copies of the bill, now officially entitled the Service Men's Readjustment Act, are not available yet and nobody is making much comment in advance on the information at hand as to what the document will contain.

When the bill officially reaches the House it will come in under open rule allowing unlimited amendment, which may mean a fight over the unemployment compensation clause which was changed considerably by the House Committee on World War Veterans' legislation.

The committee reduced compensation from $25, as it appeared in the original measure passed by the Senate, to $20 a week, and the number of weeks in which it will be paid from 52 to 26.

A number of House members are on record as favoring a longer time for payment than 26 weeks, and are expected to seize the opportunity to insist on a change when the bill comes up for debate.

The rules committee is expected to allow six hours for debate, which means it may take two days next week.

After it is accepted by the House the measure then will go to a conference committee.

Shot Hits Hubby, Other Man' Held

As the result of a shooting, which police described as the climax to a love triangle, a Lowell truckdriver was in the hospital today with a .32 calibre bullet in his left hip, while police questioned the alleged "other man."

Richard A. Holyoke, 37, of Lowell, the "irate husband" who was wounded, was reported in good condition at St. John's Hospital.

Police said Holyoke, who is estranged from his wife, Eleanor, mother of their two children, appeared at the home of a Billerica roadhouse owner early today and demanded to see his wife.

Mrs. Holyoke is employed at the roadhouse.

When he was refused admittance, police said Holyoke drove his fist through the glass door panel, and then was struck by a bullet.

Bricker Supports Social Security Plan

COLUMBUS, O., May 3.—In a discussion of "Does Youth Want Social Security From the Cradle to the Grave," John W. Bricker, speaking on the National Town Meeting of the Air program of the Blue Network from the Central High School here said:

The National Town Meeting of the Air honors Ohio tonight in broadcasting from our capital city of Columbus.

"I welcome you, Mr. Jack Denny and the participants in this program.

"It is significant especially in these times that it is an all-student broadcast."

"Some 10,000,000 young Americans now wear the uniform of our armed forces. They are fighting and dying to defend the world to preserve, among other things, freedom of expression the right to have a voice in the affairs of government."

"If they are dedicating their lives to this ideal in foreign lands it is highly appropriate that they be permitted to enjoy it here at home.

"American statesmanship had its early origin in the town meeting of Colonial days. Future American statesmanship may well be engendered by this modern counterpart of that cherished institution."

"Fitting to this hour is the question, 'Does youth want social security from the cradle to the grave?'"

"The idea of social security is not new. It is as old as our western culture. Early Americans were somewhat more rugged individuals."

"They were self-reliant and individually courageous. But they were also co-operative and deeply conscious of the social needs of their day."

"Their early settlements were eloquent witnesses of the group needs and responsibilities."

"There was the stockade within which they could compensate and protect their families. There was the common stock of food, of water and of ammunition for use in the event of attack by Indians."

"Even in that primitive society men and women found it necessary to promote the social or group welfare, even though they remained individually strong and free."

CAN STAND ALONE

"They knew how to stand alone and at the same time march together."

"America has always had a social security program. It has always cared for people in unfortunate and desperate circumstances."

"For many years that assistance was on a voluntary basis, through such great humanitarian agencies as the Red Cross, the Community Chest and many others."

"As our country grew and life became more complex government itself set up programs in areas where voluntary action was less practical. Step by step have come workmen's compensation, aid for the aged, unemployment compensation and many welfare services to the needy, especially mothers and children. Both sides of this discussion tonight may be equally interested in human welfare."

"So the question before the American people is not whether we shall have a social security program in this country. Rather the question is what kind of program shall we have, how extensive should it be, and what agencies, governmental or otherwise, will win it? How shall we help the needy without perpetuating the causes of need? Where shall the dividing line be as between private voluntary agencies on the one hand and governmental agencies on the other? Shall the administration of our public social security program be wasted more and more in the federal government or shall it remain with the state? We want to know whether social security benefits should be extended to other hazards of life, as contemplated by the Beveridge report in England, or the Wagner bill in the United States."

YOU TOO CAN BE GLAMOROUS

BUT NOT WITH A PIMPLY FACE

If you have a "problem skin," if you suffer from ugly, red, disfiguring pimples, blotches, some blackheads, burning eczema and other externally caused skin ailments that destroy your natural charm and beauty, then for Heaven's sake go to your druggist right away and get a jar of MEDREX OINTMENT. You'll discover, like thousands of others, that MEDREX (a doctor's prescription) compounded from 3 tested ingredients of proven effectiveness, offers quick relief and promotes beneficial effects by helping nature clear away these externally caused blemishes. And you'll like MEDREX. It's a mildly medicated, creamy emollient for the relief of itching skin irritations, athlete's foot and many other uses. No matter what you have tried, or how long, your first jar of MEDREX will convince you of its palliative action or your money cheerfully refunded. Get MEDREX today and get rid of that feeling of acute inferiority. 50c a jar at all druggists.

Germanizing

LONDON, May 3 (INS).—Taking their own whenever they find it, Nazi occupation authorities in Poland have made a "German" out of Frederik Chopin, the Polish composer.

Previously the Germans had banned even the playing of Chopin's music, fearing its intense patriotic appeal to the Poles.

But now, said reports reaching Polish quarters in London, the Germans have secretly organized a special exhibit in memory of Chopin in Krakow. Mystified Poles who attended were informed that Chopin was "of course German."

Soldier's Sick Mother Gains After Son's Flying Visit

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., May 5 (AP)—So thrilled that her pallid cheeks became rosy, Mrs. Mary Dodd rallied from her critical illness as her soldier-son who flew across the Atlantic to be at her bedside, arrived.

The son, Staff Sergt. Everett L. Dodd, Jr., a Fortress tail gunner, sat on the side of her bed and affectionately patted her cheek. Mrs. Dodd smiled through her tears and said, "I'm perfectly happy now."

The boy's father, a Walnut Ridge, Ark., ice cream manufacturer, stood in the background and smiled as his son said, "I have the most wonderful mother in the world and I'm thrilled to death to be back with her."

She was obviously overjoyed when young Dodd told her he was not going back to the war zone and was to be assigned to a station in this country, probably as an instructor.

Trial Set May 16 In Maine Gun Death

PORTLAND, Me., May 5—County Atty. Richard S. Chapman today set May 16 as date for the murder trial of Joseph P. Gillo, 47, of Bath, following Gillo's indictment by the grand jury on a charge of fatally shooting Thelma Nicholas, 23, mother of two children, at Raymond, last Jan. 8.

The state alleges Gillo shot the victim in the head with a .38 calibre revolver during an argument over money which she wanted to purchase a fur coat.

Bachelor's Notes Of Love Revealed

Judge Robert Gardiner Wilson, Jr., of Suffolk Probate Court believes that a 28-year-old bachelor named "Gabe," described as a defense worker, 4-F in the draft and suitor of at least two men's wives, should be Exhibit A when the divorce trial of Mrs. Elizabeth Pselos of Allyn st., West End, resumes next week.

"Gabe" was the recipient of 14 love letters which she wrote, Mrs. Pselos admitted when called to the stand by counsel for her husband, Nicholas Pselos of Decatur st., South End.

The attractive, 25-year-old brunette, who is contesting his suit for divorce on grounds of cruelty, admitted writing the series of ardent letters, read in evidence. One message said:

"I want you to remember that I love you and always will. I don't know what the outcome will be between my husband and me—he left last night. Please, honey, keep cool and calm. Remember that rose you gave me? I pressed it together and put it between the pages of a book. It brings back memories."

"Memories of love?" asked the judge. "Yes," she answered, whereupon Judge Wilson asked:

"Just why are you contesting this case?"

"I still love my husband and want to go back and live with him," Mrs. Pselos answered.

She said the letters had been delivered to "Gabe" by one of her girl friends, who also went out with him.

"He ought to be Exhibit A," Judge Wilson remarked, "running around with two other men's wives, 4-F and working in a war plant. He ought to go to war to get his mind off his recreation."

Mrs. Pselos testified she was jealous of "Gabe's" affairs with other girls, and in one letter she had written:

"I wish you would leave other girls alone. Don't go slapping me; that is the most terrible thing a man could do. You shouldn't do it to a lady, and of course I consider myself one."

In another letter Mrs. Pselos had written of going to a West Newton st. address to hire a room for "Gabe." She wrote:

"I told them I was married."

Of course you are supposed to be my so-called husband. It hurt me deeply to lie like that."

Mrs. Pselos said she "couldn't count" the number of letters she had written to "Gabe," but that she had never been intimate with him.

AIDS TO GOOD HOUSEKEEPING

This was disclosed today in a House naval affairs committee report recommending a $65,000,000 appropriation for ordnance manufacture.

Included was a statement from the Navy revealing the proposed expansion of work on rocket-propelled weapons.

No clues were given as to the nature of the devices, but the Navy said $15,000,000 of the proposed $65,000,000 allocation is needed "because of the new technique required for the new propellant."

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.), who introduced the appropriation bill, declined to discuss the new weapons, saying "It's all very secretive."

Likewise, a Navy Department official declared "All we can say is that we are using rocket guns, as was reported a short time ago."

Man Sentenced In Murder of Child

CHICAGO, May 5 (INS)—John W. Shaffer, 29-year-old railroad brakeman, was found guilty of the murder of his 5-year-old stepdaughter, Lettie Joyce Weir. The child was gagged, beaten and stuffed into a closet to die.

Chief Justice Benjamin F. Epstein sentenced Shaffer to 45 years in prison.

STABBED IN THE BACK BY ARTHRITIS

NOW is the time of the year when Arthritis is on the loose, stabbing victim after victim with its deadly dagger of pain. If you are one of those unfortunate people, here is important information for you to know. Many people suffering from crippling arthritis pains in back, knees, shoulders and hands, never suspect that these pains may be caused, in some cases, by excessive acids within the body. As a dietary aid in the factor neutralization of these excessive acids, which in turn may lead to bring speedy relief to this crisis, Vig-Ore Soderum Tablets were devised by a well-known food scientist. Vig-Ore Soderum Tablets contain food sodium and food iodine, two minerals of nutritional value which may prove to be helpful to many arthritic sufferers. Vig-Ore Soderum Tablets are free from all harmful chemical drugs. They positively do not contain injurious ingredients of any kind.

Let Their Country Join Them in Prayer . . . On the Day of Invasion

Prayer

American fighting men set an example for the nation in this picture of Mass aboard a Coast Guard assault transport. Let their faith in God be a symbol for the country on D-Day, and as the invasion begins let the doors of every church be thrown open for all America to pray for a quick victory and a lasting peace.

Give Brutes a Dose of Own Medicine

GOV. HUGH B. CROSS of Illinois, disturbed and angered by the prevalence and popularity of crime, has suggested that States consider "public humiliation" as a practical means of crime prevention and urged consideration of a "speedy return to the whipping post as the most effective treatment."

"I may be a little old-fashioned, but I still believe that the familiar injunction to 'spare the rod and spoil the child' is sound and logical in many cases, not only as applied to children, but also to grown-ups," Gov. Cross said.

He added that "it has been amply demonstrated that swaggering bullies who beat up their wives, and confidence men who are strutting peacocks of the underworld, would much prefer to serve a prison sentence than to suffer the extreme embarrassment of being publicly flogged."

A thoughtful and practical California jurist, Judge Frank Carrell of Gardena, recently made a similar suggestion.

Confronted by a man who had confessed to beating two small boys—one his four-year-old son, the other his seven-year-old foster son—with a leather belt, Judge Carrell said:

"If our laws permitted, it would be most fitting to administer to you the same punishment you administered to these children."

"We should amend the law so that we might subject persons like you to THE WHIPPING POST."

Why do the laws of most States fail to provide the penalty of flogging for the floggers of children and women?

Why don't Legislatures give us such laws?

The logical and proper punishment for such cowards and brutes, as the Illinois Governor and the California judge have argued, is the SAME PUNISHMENT THEY CRUELLY AND UNLAWFULLY ADMINISTER to their helpless victims.

Imprisonment does not deter such men, as long experience in practically every State in the Union proves.

The only thing the coward and brute fear is the punishment they themselves inflict.

Courts should not be impotent against individuals who mistreat their wives and little children.

Laws should not be inadequate.

Legislatures should not be delinquent.

Essential New England

THE New England Council, a busy and effective organization, has published these interesting facts about our six States:

New England embraces only 2 per cent of the territory of the United States.

BUT New England has 6.3 PER CENT of the total United States population.

Moreover, New England has 11 PER CENT of the capital resources in United States banks and 18 PER CENT of the savings deposits.

New England holds 9.2 PER CENT of the war supply contracts and employs 11 PER CENT of the nation's industrial workers.

New England receives 11 PER CENT of the estimated recreational expenditures in the country and has 17 PER CENT of the seasonal dwellings.

New England catches 20 PER CENT of the fish in American markets.

To this the Council adds a postscript: Of the votes in the United States Senate, New England has 12.5 PER CENT.

This will be good news to a section that has never been addicted to boasting.

In fact, our sectional humility is such that few New Englanders realize how vitally useful they are to the United States in war and peace.

WASHINGTON, May 5—It is my firm conviction that there is no possibility of vaudeville coming back so long as the War Labor Board is on the job.

The competition would be too tough for vaudeville, even though the WLB has no trained seal up can play "My Country 'Tis of Thee" on a set of pipes. Furthermore, the WLB hearings are admission free.

Another thing, the WLB does very effective ad-libbing. It never knows how the show is going to work out. For instance, it probably had no premonition of the tragic consequences when it bleated to F. D. R. that Montgomery Ward & Co. was being defiant.

I submit that it is only charitable to assume that WLB acted in a spirit of good, clean frolic. Judging by some past performances this assumption seems warranted.

Or it may have precipitated the thing in the interests of action photography, to give the world that entrancing, truly American, picture of Sewell Avery, head of Montgomery Ward, being carried out of his plant by armed soldiers.

In this spirited defense of the WLB I also wish to report that it is a closely-knit organization. There is never any more disagreement between its members than there is between Vice-President Henry Wallace and Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones.

IF ANY reader thinks he detects sarcasm it is only because I am breaking my silly neck trying to be sarcastic.

There is really so much amity, love and understanding within the board that it is no uncommon sight to see it slopping over and running into the corridors. In fact it probably is not going too far to predict that the day will come when the members will even recognize each other by sight.

INSTANCES of this inspiring spirit of fellowship develop in the WLB nearly every day, but I have chosen just one, although not exactly at random. It happened a few days ago.

William H. Davis, distinguished chairman of WLB, was presiding at a hearing before the full board. The proceedings had been a short distance when a fellow had the temerity to interpose a question. The query had to do with the board's general policy toward the issue under consideration.

Mr. Davis frowned forbiddingly upon the rash one and snapped:

"If you had ever sat on this board you would know what our policy is!"

The unfortunate fellow thus rebuked turned out to be Joseph Keane—AFL member of the board!

I HAVEN'T the faintest idea who is to be the new Secretary of the Navy. I would find this well-nigh intolerable but for one thing: The Navy hasn't any idea either.

I know this because I called up Capt. Leland P. Lovette, head of Navy Public Relations, who is also the department's chief information dispenser. Capt. Lovette was not in, but I put the question squarely up to his secretary, Miss Helen Harvey.

"Who," I demanded, "is to be the new secretary of the navy? I wish a straight answer, Miss Harvey, and none of your technical, or bureaucratic evasions." I could hardly believe my ears when Miss Harvey insisted she did not know. Or rather, I gathered that was what she meant. For a minute she mystified me, because this is what she said: "You can search me!"

A SAN FRANCISCO man tells me his tips average over $400 a month. He is a piano player in a cafe. . . Statistics indicate the more intelligent people are producing only one-third of the number of children than those born to the less intelligent. Intelligence is hereditary. So is the lack of it. . . The shortest book in the world. That's what Francois La Porte of Paris claimed for his book, titled "Should A Woman Be Loved?" This volume was handsomely bound. When opened it was found to contain only five printed words: "It depends on the woman."

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS:
Q. As I told you, the line "I was only teasing you" is from the song titled "Angry" and not from one titled "Teasing," as you said. Where is my stogie?
A. The line "I was only teasing you" is in both songs. The bet is a tie. Hence no stogie. Q. What in your opinion should be the circumference and thickness of a restaurant pie and how many pieces should be cut from same to give the customer a fair deal? A. This is an interesting question, sir. But before answering, I will have to do some research. Before the war I knew of a place where the pie was nearly an inch thick and was cut in four pieces. Never checked on the circum-

"I will do nothing of the sort," I said sternly. "I would consider that most unseemly. If anything like that is to be done we will summon the matron."

Miss Harvey explained she was merely employing a figure of speech; that what she meant was the Information Bureau had no information.

MOST OF MY clairvoyant colleagues in the newspaper business have advanced the idea, however, that the new Navy boss will be James V. Forrestal, present undersecretary. I do not know how they get this low-down because Mr. Forrestal himself has given close friends to understand he has heard nothing.

There is also another factor militating against him. He would seem to be the logical successor. There is a report—unconfirmed, I will admit—that the new Navy Secretary will be someone who has the approval of President Roosevelt. It is a good thing for you that you read this column, or you would never know any inside stuff like that.

There is one thing that will favor Mr. Forrestal if he gets the big job. He will not be embarrassed by a wife who tries to put on the dog. Although the Forrestals are very wealthy, Mrs. Forrestal has gotten down to Spartan living.

I am informed that only recently she got rid of her $16,000 Rolls-Royce. I am informed that she created quite a stir by giving it to a mechanic in the Navy yard.

It was quite a gift. Friends of the mechanic in question tell me he has already received an offer of $900 for it.

A big envelope from the War Production Board came to one of the newspaper bureaus here addressed to a former reporter who has been in the Army for more than two years.

In it were a thousand or more nicely-glued stickers exhorting the beholder not to waste paper!

ference of these pies, but they looked a little larger than the average.

PHONE CALLS: The British Telephone Co. checked the average length of long distance calls to ascertain which city had the longest telephone talkers. Longest were Londoners and shortest those of Bristol. The average long distance call from London lasts three minutes and 47 seconds. From Bristol three minutes and seven seconds. How about United States cities? They should be checked. I believe the most lengthy long distance calls originate in Hollywood and Washington. The shortest from Fort Worth, Tex. The local calls of feminine subscribers should also be checked. The average call for women must be about 10 minutes. Chicago women probably talk the longest, with Los Angeles females second and the Boston ladies third.

SOLDIERS' WIVES: Now say your husband is in the armed services and you have yourself and two children to take care of. Do you think you could do it on $8.75 a week? That is what the wife of a soldier with two children allowed in England. Thousands of such wives live in London, which is a more expensive city than New York. The British soldier, after his allotment has been deducted, has left the equivalent of 42 cents a day.

WOMEN, ETC.: Eighty-five per cent of persons of a hundred years of age and older are women. As time goes on that percentage will be considerably cut. The women who are now 100 and over were young in a day when 99 per cent of women neither smoked nor drank strong liquor. Nowadays the number of young women who drink and smoke is nearly as great as that of young men. And the young women drink more. That shortens life. It doesn't help the longevity of their descendants either.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 5—"Seattle," John Considine's long-discussed movie, won't go before the cameras for some months. But when it goes—boy! Is there a cast to bring the fans into the boxoffice?

Katharine Hepburn, who is summing in the East, and Lana Turner, who is resting her "shattered nerves" following her divorce suit from Steve Crane (that's what I read in the papers), will share the femme honors. Walter Pidgeon is the man in the case.

According to a friend of mine on the M-G-M lot, there is glory enough in "Seattle" for the entire trio. Remember "San Francisco" with Jeanette MacDonald, Clark Gable and Spencer Tracy? All three had equally important parts.

CHEER UP, GIRLS. In spite of Uncle Sam's ruling out bathing beauty contests at Atlantic City for the duration, Andrew Stone is rushing to the rescue of the beauties with "Miss America." Oddly enough, this title has never been registered; that is, not until Andy put dibs on it. Yes, the movie will be conducted just like a regular Miss America contest with all 48 states submitting a candidate. "Unless one of the girls turns out to be an actress as well as a beauty we shall have a Hollywood star in the top as 'Miss America,'" Stone told me, "and the picture will be bigger than our 'Sensations of 1935.'"

BING CROSBY is having himself a time with that new company of his. Not only is Bing footing the bills, but he's turning out to be chief casting scout as well. The other day, on the Para lot, he dropped in a projection room when they were running "Till We Meet Again." He thought Barbara Britton was wonderful as the young nun—so wonderful that he went right to the front office and arranged to borrow her for his John L. Sullivan movie. She'll play the other femme lead with Linda Darnell. Just who gets the John L. role is still a moot question, but Bing favors an unknown.

THE AFTERMATH of Paullette Goddard's visit overseas comes in an amusing letter from Sergt. Smith Dawless, former Warner contract writer now in the Army Public Relations. He says: "I had an interview with La Goddard and I certainly admire her for coming this far afield. The best story on her comes out of the officers' mess, where she proudly displayed the G. I. hardware decorating the lapels of her O. D. suit—she had oak leaf clusters, railroad tracks and various insignia from the air corps, to say nothing of her own Presidential citation. One naive major said: 'All you need is a chaplain's insignia.' Cracked La Goddard: 'No thanks, I have had enough Chaplains!'"

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Something new in wartime romances is Ann Doran's acceptance of Col. James Travis' marriage proposal by V-mail and her answer by the same mail. When the Colonel went to England over a year ago they were good friends, but nothing had ever been said about wedding bells. They both are apparently good letter writers for the love story not only Copyright, 1944, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

"Oh, he's not my brother. He's one of the neighbor's little boys. He just has the candy concession here!"

thrived via mail but now it leads to the altar. Ann is the girl who was so good as the young wife who came to the airport to bid farewell to her husband in "Air Force." She's in "Roughly Speaking" at Warners now.

WHEN I WAS covering the New York movie beat, Marguerite D'Alvarez was a sensation at the "Met." Many of the music critics hailed her as the finest of all Delilahs, and certainly the Peruvian songbird gave it plenty! I was surprised, just a few days ago, to learn that she had been in Hollywood working in a small part in Frank Borzage's Paramount picture, "Till We Meet Again." But today the bosses looked at her rushes and thought she was so swell that she gets one of the top roles in "Medal for Benny" with D. Lamour and Artura De Cordova. Wonder if she will sing, or just emoté?

JACK CONWAY, who was taken ill soon after starting "Dragon Seed" and had to leave the picture, is back on the M-G-M lot looking and feeling like a new man. His long rest completely restored his health and he's raring to get back to megaphoning. The studio is just as eager to get him going and so his first will be directing Judy Garland and Robert Walker in "The Clock." This story centers around two characters, making it an even smaller cast than the three principals in "The Voice of the Turtle."

DOM: Steffi Duna is in the Cedars of Lebanon and all Hollywood will be sorry to hear she lost her baby; Alice Faye is naming her new daughter Phyllis; Frank Kinella moved out on his wife, Cass Daley, but not for the usual reason. She's learning to play the drums for "Out of This World" and the noise was too much. He'll be back when she finishes the movie; Peter Van Eyck has been in the Army three weeks, so you can imagine his wife's surprise when she received word from the draft board that he had been deferred until June.

GRETA GARBO, with her hair beautifully done, and actually having fun, was the center of attraction at Lady Mendel's party. She is planning to appear at the Hollywood Canteen—persuaded by her friends who believe she should do something soon. Joan Fontaine and Maria Montez had their heads together and were having a lot of laughs. Maria tells me she hopes to be sent overseas to entertain the boys and get a glimpse of her bridegroom. Jean Pierre Aumont, Janet Gaynor wore a trick gown and cape, especially designed for her by Adrian, who was also responsible for Gypsy Rose Lee's cyclamen dress—very becoming.

CLIFTON WEBB has asked a few of his friends to come in Saturday night for a buffet supper; June Haver is having trouble with imbedded tonsils; Maj. John Huston is in town, and that doesn't make Olivia De Havilland unhappy; Ben Bernice's son, Jason, and Illyene Sagarman, Sugie's daughter, have for New York immediately after their marriage Sunday; Mrs. Franchot Tone's mother, Mary Sharkey Wallace, quietly married Francis Melvin Ingram. Service Wife's Check Stolen

A 24-year-old serviceman's wife, whose only child has been a patient at the Massachusetts Hospital School for two years, today reported the theft of her allotment check.

Mrs. Eileen Sarno of Edgerly rd., Back Bay, saw the check in her mailbox and returned upstairs to get the mailbox key. When she returned the check had been stolen. A waitress in a downtown restaurant, her husband, Sergt. Frank, has been in the Army over three years; her son, Paul, 5, has been crippled with infantile paralysis all his life. Since Mrs. Sarno is the oldest of 11 children, she has no one to turn to for financial help.

Taunton Mayor Will Face Trial

TAUNTON, May 5—Mayor Merrill D. Aldrich of this city, County Com. Leo H. Coughlin and Taunton Licensee Con Israel Louison will face trial in June at New Bedford on charges of conspiracy to violate the corrupt practices act, Asst. Atty.-Gen. Ralph V. Rogers said today.

The three are under indictment accused of conspiring to have Louison reappointed as license commissioner.

Rogers' announcement was made as trial of Joseph P. Dyer, on an indictment charging attempted influencing of a juror, got underway today at the special criminal session of Bristol superior court. Dyer's offense is alleged to have occurred at the conspiracy trial of George C. Mycock of Freetown, and Gustave Reinhardt of Assonet, now serving house of correction terms.

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, May 5.—The electron microscope has discovered heads and tails on minute creatures only a quarter of a millionth of an inch long, so small that 1000 of them could be put on the point of a pin and the whole mass would still be invisible to the eye.

These things, the bacteriophage which like to destroy certain intestinal germs, are the smallest yet found to possess heads and tails. Their photos were shown to the Society of American Bacteriologists here today.

These phage, which simulate the familiar animal shapes, are not considered really living, but only half way between life and inanimate matter. They are classed as viruses.

HEADS ARE ROUND

They can live and reproduce inside a living cell. But outside, they are merely chemical substance which can be crystallized. However, the crystallization doesn't kill the queer sort of life within their substance.

They resemble pollywogs, geometrically trimmed. Their heads are round, half the body length, and the tails look like straight sticks stuck onto the head. These tails have diameters only one-tenth of the body lengths.

This was among many electron microscope pictures shown the bacteriologists along with two new electron microscopes produced by R. C. A. Both are smaller and easier to handle and less costly than the original electron microscope. One of the new machines will magnify up to 22,000 diameters and the other up to 5000. The original big machine will go to 100,000 diameters.

ACTION OF PENICILLIN

The photographs were shown by V. K. Zworykin, James Hillier and Perry C. Smith. They told the bacteriologists how to take the pictures and said it was up to the scientists to find explanations of the queer events shown in the huge magnifications.

For example, they showed the action of penicillin and of the sulfas on germs. In one photo, germs looked like a large bunch of grapes. In the next, after penicillin had been spread over them, the germs were all cut to pieces, like a pile of flakes.

Entirely different was the killing action of sulfanilamide on pneumonia germs, type one. It is known that sulfanilamide kills these germs. But the electron microscope picture showed not the slightest change to explain the manner of death.

Woman Cafe Owner, Famed in N. Y., Dies

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., May 5 (AP)—Mrs. Louisa Leone, 70, of New York city, died at St. Vincent's Hospital here where she had been a patient since April 27.

Mrs. Leone was the founder and proprietor of Leone's restaurant, a rendezvous for writers and theatrical people.

Truck Birth

CHICAGO, May 5 (INS)—A seven-pound baby girl bore the distinction today of having been born in a 2½-ton truck as it raced to a Chicago hospital.

Unable to get a taxicab, the father borrowed the truck from his boss. On the truck's side was the company's slogan: "We deliver anything."

Noted Miller Dies

PORTLAND, Ind., May 5 (AP)—Edward Haynes, 71, former president of the American Millers' Ass'n, died last night. He was a brother of the late Elwood Haynes, one of the inventors of the automobile.

Smart Set

By BETTY ALDEN
ELAINÉ PINKHAM, Dagmar Pierce and Mitzl Ott, classmates at Boston School of Occupational Therapy, will burn the midnight oil or else get their homework done early Sunday for that night they'll sell posies at the South End Music School benefit Pops.

MRS. CHARLES MULCAHY, JR. (Mary O'Day), returns to husband's station in Mid-West.

Chamberlain-Dana

Mrs. Minot Miliken, ticket chairman, has a few remaining tickets at her home, 5 Gloucester st., where after the concert she is giving a buffet for Leonard Bernstein, 23-year-old conductor pianist who will be soloist.

Elaine is a niece of Mrs. William Ellery, president of the Music School. Her sister, Mrs. L. Ware Williams, who recently returned from the West Coast, will also sell flowers as will Lillian and Ellie Boit, musically gifted daughters of the John Boits, Sally and Katharine Newbold, Joan Titcomb, Mary Edmunds, Mary Carol Johnson, Katharine Warner, Catherine Curtis, Barbara Jenney and many others.

AT A SMALL home wedding in Weston this afternoon, Mrs. Anna Warren Eaton Lothrop, is being married to George Newell Chamberlain, Jr., son of Mrs. George N. Chamberlain of Cambridge.

Attended by her daughter, Diana, and given in marriage by her brother, Major Eaton Shaw Lothrop, the bride is wearing a powder blue dress and hat with navy slippers and corsage of blue orchids. Diana is wearing a beige dress with powder blue gloves, headress and bouquet. Mrs. Lothrop, mother of the bride, is wearing lavender orchids with her black sheer and Mrs. Chamberlain blue crepe with orchids.

Dr. Samuel Eliot is officiating and guests include Major and Mrs. Lothrop and family, Mrs. Horton King, sister of the bride, and Mr. King. Mr. and Mrs. William E. Cram and a number of others from Portland where the bride was educated. The bride is a prominent member of the Junior League and former chairman of the Glee Club.

OFF TO THE Mid-West again is Mrs. Charles Mulcahy, Jr. (Mary O'Day) a Navy bride who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Day, for the past month. Her mother went as far as New York with her and will attend a Gotham wedding before returning to Brookline Saturday.

THE TWIN Bulfinch houses at 39-40 Beacon st., built in 1818, will be at their loveliest for the 22d annual Spring Flower Show of the Women's City Club May 17 and 18. Mrs. Louis Phaneuf is general chairman.

Chairmen of the various exhibition classes are Mrs. Anson H. Smith, clubhouse rooms; Mrs. Hugh Montgomery, budding or flowering shrubs; with accent of flowers; Mrs. Robert Cushman, wall brackets with suitable plant material; Mrs. Helen A. Hunt, tall vases with drooping or hanging effect; Miss Josephine Douglass, dining table arrangements; Mrs. Samuel J. Newman, small arrangements on shelf; Mrs. Phaneuf, shadow boxes.

Liquor Import Curb Asked

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—A proposal to bring less gin and rum and more industrial alcohol from Cuba, the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico was advanced today by members of the Senate's liquor shortage investigating committee.

Sen. Murdock (D.) of Utah, declared that "entirely so much emphasis is being placed on the quality of industrial alcohol" and "entirely too little on the quality of beverage alcohol being imported into this country for consumption."

Sen. Ferguson (R.) of Michigan, agreed with Murdock's view that the War Production Board should move to divert some of these shipments to industrial alcohol to relieve pressure on domestic distillers, whose entire production is now devoted to alcohol.

They made this suggestion after WPA Chairman Donald F. Nelson declared flatly yesterday that there is no prospect of an alcohol "holiday."

Army Board Probing Three Deaths in Crash

While a board of inquiry from Westover Field, Chicopee, began an investigation into the crash of a heavy bomber plane near Ludlow which killed three Army fliers, funeral services were planned today in Watertown for the pilot, Capt. Harold H. Melkonian, 26, of Edge-chiff rd.

Capt. Melkonian, a graduate of Manchester, N. H., High School, and Boston University, was the second member of his family to die in a plane crash within a year. His brother, Lieut. Suren Melkonian, was killed in a crackup in Iowa last August.

A veteran of almost three years in the Air Force, Capt. Melkonian served for two years in the Panama Canal zone and has been serving for 11 months as a flying instructor at Westover Field. Another brother, Pvt. Popken, 25, is in New Guinea. He is survived also by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vahan Melkonian, and a sister, Betty, 14.

The two others killed with the Watertown man were Lieut. William F. Davis, 21, of Baxter, W. Va., and Sergt. Harry Schultz, 36, of Kansas City, Mo.

They were the only three aboard the plane which normally carries a crew of 10. Col. Ulysses Grant Jones, field commander, announced, when it crashed, overturned and burst into flames. Mr. and Mrs. Athland Newell of Chicopee reported the craft passed over their home with all four motors dead and disappeared near the Ludlow line after a 500-foot dive.

Educators to Meet

This is his room...

His mother airs it every so often, and dusts, and shakes out the clothes in his closet to make sure the moths aren't getting at them. But mostly the room is closed and silent, waiting for a boy who's spending his youth and strength, and risking his life, to buy a safer, saner, happier world for the rest of us.

You can buy something for him... yes, War Bonds... and not only on pay days and during the Drives; but in-between. Today perhaps, remembering what he's going through for you, something you're tempted to buy won't seem nearly so important as helping to get him back home. Buy a Bond instead.

This War Bond message prepared and published by the brewers of Ballantine & Ale

Plow Sod Land Only Once

By FOSTER H. WEISS

(Head, Market Garden Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and director of the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser demonstration garden on Boston Common.)

Victory gardeners who are starting gardens for the first time this year and are preparing sod land should remember not to plow twice or use an implement like a spring tooth harrow, as such practices only bring the sod to the surface after it has been turned under.

Once plowed, sod land should only be disc harrowed and smoothed.

One job that most gardeners neglect is cultivation for weed control. In some gardens it is not too soon to start this program as the crops are already up and will benefit by light shallow cultivation. If a crust has formed on the surface, it is well to break it up to allow the soil to warm up faster.

MIX FERTILIZER WELL

When setting plants the general practice is to put fertilizer in the hole. If you follow this practice, be sure to mix the fertilizer in thoroughly or it will burn the roots. Use only a light application and side-dress the crop later.

Tomato seedlings that have been set in the cold-frame should be kept as warm as possible. With the recent cool night weather, the glass should be covered to prevent too much heat loss. I have seen a number of cases where these plants are failing to root because the soil temperature is too low.

There is still plenty of time for plants to develop, however, so do not worry if they start slow. Most tomato plants are overgrown before they are set out.

CULL POTATO SPROUTS

Last year's potatoes are beginning to sprout in storage. There is very little that you can do to prevent this except to pick off the sprouts and place them in a cool, dark place. Potatoes will sprout easily at this time, but the removal of sprouts will prevent shrinking.

Dedham Cafe Looted

Thieves ransacked the Manor Cafe in Sprague st., Dedham, for the second time in a year and stole 25 cases of whisky valued at $1500. Vincent Negri, proprietor, reported to police today.

Mother's Day Gifts That Will Please

Fashion

INDULGE A LOVELY MOTHER on Mother's Day with gifts that are "gitty" and choice... fragrant and scented with savory sweetness of carnations, traditional for the day... in a host of feminine bailleries.

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
 "With love to a lovely mother on Mother's Day."
 DOUBTLESS, that will be the thought expressed on the card accompanying your timely remembrance. Now, how about the gift? The variety is wide... but, because this year, more than ever, Mother's Day takes on special importance... let your gift be traditionally symbolic of the deep spirit of mother's love.

With a son or daughter at camp or overseas... it may not be so easy for mother to be gay and happy all the time. So those of us who are near her this year have a double responsibility and privilege. It is within our hands to add a touch of love, a thoughtful gesture to a mother's life. Whether she is ours or someone else's... she will appreciate a gesture of affection... a gift which will give her renewed faith in her own womanliness.

GAILY DECORATED

Perhaps the mother you have in mind has only one means of relaxation... the bath. She'll appreciate gifts of toilet water, powder soap and bath salts. I have in mind a garden package... gaily decorated with pink and blue and yellow flowers... which will give a new look to her bathroom shelf. And, the contents will surround her in a fragrance reminiscent of an early American southern belle.

Carnations are, of course, traditional for Mother's Day... for few flowers can equal the savory sweetness of this bloom. A leading perfume genius has caught their exact, matchless scent in a carnation fragrance series... exquisitely packaged as a Mother's Day gift... delightful to the eye as they are to the sense of smell.

Particularly sentimental and gitty are the hand-sewn sachets of satin... which come singly or in a trio set of three-sized carnations... and nestling on top of these sachets are sprays of flowers... consisting of an ornate carnation and a bud. Very decorative and gitty, too... is the large octagonal box of carnation body powder... topped as it is with a large, pink, delicately fringed, artificial carnation. This series can be obtained in perfume, toilet water, bath oil, bath and talcum powder and sachets.

CHOICE GIFTS

There is another sachet set of cream toilet water and satin flower sachet in fragrances of white lilac, tapestry, gardenia and carnation created by another famous woman perfumer... who has definitely caught the feminine scent for discriminating women.

These are choice gifts... the kind that mother, perhaps, would indulge herself with... but would be thrillingly happy to receive as gifts.

For the names of any of these various gifts, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

THE NEW OPEN NECKLINE and short sleeves feature this soft blue frock with a black ribbon motif. The shirred shoulder sections... tied with black cords... and the narrow black belt at the waistline... are smart details. Warner star Ann Sheridan tops the costume with a clever scalloped brimmed hat of brilliant red and the new above-the-elbow black gloves.—R. M.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, THURSDAY—Mrs. Curtin, wife of the prime minister of Australia, lunched with me yesterday, and I also asked Miss Craig McGoachey, who is head of the welfare division of UNRRA, to come so that she might tell us a little about the work which her group is planning. This led to some interesting information which Dr. Louise Stanley was able to give us.

Dr. Stanley is now special assistant to the administrator of the agricultural research administration. When we discussed the experiences after the last war, and what could be done to restore the health of the children in reconquered countries, she was able to tell us that proper use is being made of sharks' liver, which will help the children. She also told us of the various ways in which the necessary vitamins and proteins can be shipped to foreign countries.

I HAVE had two things draw to my attention just recently. It was said that in writing back from the various places on my Caribbean trip, I did not make clear that much of the initial work on our many bases was done by contractors with civilian employees. They met the first hardships of climate, they established sanitation and fought the jungle and the lack of fresh water.

SECONDLY, I SHOULD like to mention the fact that many citizens of the United States, who work for United States corporations and businesses long established in various Caribbean and South and Central American countries, have taken much responsibility in extending hospitality to their countrymen in the military services under the direction of our diplomats or consular agents, and USO and Red Cross leaders.

Some Tomato Soup Treats

By MARTHA LEE

WHEN YOU COUNT your kitchen blessings, remember to score soups high on your good luck list—especially the condensed kind, styled patriotically in a concentrated form to suit these thin, time and temper-saving days. A single can is one of the most versatile foods a home cook can invest her points in. Take cream of tomato soup, for instance.

It may be congealed into an aspic, mixed with melted cheese and mustard to make a racy rarebit, dressed Spanish style for vegetables, or converted into a tasty spaghetti sauce that will outclass all other favorites.

TOMATO ASPIC RING

1 11-oz. can cream of tomato soup, undiluted
 1/4 cup grated celery
 1 tsp. grated onion
 1/4 tsp. sugar 1/4 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. celery salt
 Dash red pepper
 2-3 cup water 1 bay leaf
 1 tsp. gelatin (soaked in 1/2 cup cold water for 10 minutes)
 2 tbsp. distilled white vinegar
 3 cups chicken salad, meat salad, or vegetable salad
 Combine first 9 ingredients and heat for 10 minutes. Strain. Add soaked gelatin to hot liquid and stir until dissolved. Add vinegar. Pour into ring mold. Chill. Unmold when firm. Serve with desired salad in center of ring mold. If preferred, the aspic may be formed in individual molds. Makes 6 servings.

TOMATO RAREBIT

1 11-oz. can cream of tomato soup, undiluted
 1/4 lb. American cheese, grated
 1/4 tsp. prepared mustard
 Place soup and cheese into saucepan. Heat over very low heat, stirring constantly until cheese is melted and mixture is smooth. Add mustard, and blend well. Serve over slices of toast. Makes 4 servings.

SPANISH ONIONS

1 green pepper, sliced into thin strips 1/2 tsp. salt
 5 medium onions, cut into eighths
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 1 11-oz. can cream of tomato soup, undiluted
 2 cups cooked rice
 Sauté green pepper and onions in butter until tender. Add soup and salt. Heat. Serve over cooked rice. Makes 4 servings.

HOT TOMATO COCKTAIL SAUCE

1 11-oz. can cream of tomato soup, undiluted
 2 tbsp. sugar
 2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
 3 tsp. beefsteak sauce
 1/2 tsp. red pepper sauce
 Combine all ingredients and mix well. Simmer, stirring occasionally, for 15 minutes. Chill and serve over seafood or cold cuts. Makes 8 to 10 servings. It's marvelous on shrimp with crackers.

Variation: Add to the above recipe 1 teaspoon evaporated horseradish soaked in 1 tablespoon water for 10 minutes. Especially excellent when served over seafood.

SPAGHETTI WITH MEAT SAUCE

1/2 cup chopped onion
 1/2 cup olive oil 1 1/2 cups water
 1/2 lb. ground beef
 1 11-oz. can cream of tomato soup, undiluted
 1 1/2 tsp. salt Pepper
 3/4 lb. spaghetti
 Parmesan or sharp cheese
 Brown the chopped onion in olive oil until soft. Add beef and cook until brown. Add soup, water and seasonings. Cover and simmer for 30 minutes. Cook spaghetti and drain. Serve the sauce over the spaghetti and sprinkle with grated Parmesan or sharp cheese. Makes 8 servings. One cup sliced mushrooms may be added if desired.

'Loves' Two Sailors

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I'm a young woman of 20.

Over a year ago I met a young man and we both fell in love with each other. When he went into the Navy he asked me to wait for him, and I promised, but we had a mutual agreement that if either one wanted to go out with others, nothing would be said. I never cared to go out, but I know he did. He was home at Christmas, and we planned to marry on his next furlough.

Since then I met another sailor at a party, and have fallen head over heels in love with him. He has now been shipped out, but before he left asked me to marry him. I made no promise because I know I'm promised to the other man. Please tell me what to do.

Don't you think it would be a mistake to marry anyone at the present time? Perhaps you don't realize it, but you're more in love with love than with the individual who for the time being inspires it. Don't be in too great a hurry to settle down until you meet someone you just can't live without.

Prints With Dash of Personality

By BETTINA BEDWELL

PRINTED summer dresses are a tradition in this country, but the exclusive designers complain that most of them have no personality, but look too much like every other printed dress.

They are right, most of the time, but you can have a printed frock, this summer that has personality-plus, if you pick a good, pure silk shantung printed model. It will cost you more, but the returns you get in beauty and character will pay you well.

Such a dress is the model sketched by Miss Dulin. This is a Nettie Rosenstein dress and is black and pink printed silk shantung in a sea-foam pattern. It has smart short capelet sleeves, a deep V-shaped neckline and envelope pockets that give it a peplum effect. The gloves and the hat are made of the same printed silk as the dress.

Broadway

NEW YORK, May 5.—What's with Watt Webb and Jennifer Jones—and who is Watt? Do you know that Benny Thau, the MGM executive, and Frances Gifford, the actress, are on the verge of announcing their engagement? ... Isn't it true the War Department has issued instructions that all former professional athletes now serving in the Army be transferred to overseas duty? ... Hasn't Bellevue unearthed a great story (so far undisclosed) by coming upon Stephen Foster's case history at the hospital? ... Is there anything to the report, that Kate Smith may whistle her air show to a half-hour stint, with Fanny Brice taking the other half? ... Why is Red Skelton going to parties with both his ex-wife and Georgia Davis? ... When is her studio going to admit that Shirley Temple is betrothed to a young pilot?

HAVE YOU TRIED to buy a fountain pen lately? Had any luck? ... Did you know that a syndicate has offered Clare Boothe Luce a pretty penny to do a daily column—a Republican version of "My Day"? ... Are the Paul Whitmans about to adopt another child? ... Do you know that film actor William Gargan is reading playscripts with the hope of finding a part that will keep him on Broadway for a while? ... Were you aware that the Washington hotel situation had eased up considerably, for no apparent reason? ... Isn't the best theory the one which contends that the Matthai girl hasn't really "vanished" at all, but has merely retired to an upstate Pennsylvania farm to Get Away From It All? ... Do you know that, despite the wailings of the nitery owners over the 30 per cent tax, a new cabaret is opening on Swing st., at the site of the Troc?

HAVE YOU HEARD that David O. Selznick will open his new epic, "Since You Went Away" in two Broadway theaters simultaneously—just as he did with "GWTH"? ... Isn't the current Army training program now aimed at turning out infantrymen for overseas duty in 17 weeks? ... Didn't Ella Logan lose more than 20 pounds on her overseas jaunt? ... Is Paul Robeson ailing? ... Do you know that Artie Shaw is screen testing this week, and that he hopes to confine his via films and radio? ... Hey, Mabel, hey—do you know there's an usher at NBC who is an exact double for Frankie, even to the curl on the forehead? ... Do you know which big advertising agency head is songstress Gloria Whitney's heartthrob? ... Don't you love Dave Apollon's new billing for his Latin Quarter act—'Dave Apollon and His Three Royal Pennsylvania 4F Gypsies'? Do some of the defense lawyers in the Washington section trials know the FBI is gathering dossier on them, too? ... Do you think there's a thing to the rumor that Wendell Willkie might run for office of Mayor of New York? ... Isn't Yvette, the blonde canary, about to go brunette for films, and isn't that a switch?

Star Shine By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, May 5—A soldier stationed in the South Pacific wrote to Dorothy Lamour:

"Dear Miss Lamour: I love you very much. I dream about you every night. Please send me a carton of American cigarettes."

DARRYL ZANUCK and Elmer Rice have different views about the value and purpose of the motion picture, and they toss their letters at each other in the Saturday Review of Literature.

Rice writes: "The making of motion pictures is controlled, in the main, by reactionary business men who are chiefly interested in making money ... Mr. Zanuck's estimate of the educational effect of Hollywood pictures is sheer wishful thinking. As a matter of fact, the run-of-the-mill Hollywood picture has given the people of the world a wholly grotesque and distorted conception of America life ... In a large theater in Tokyo, I observed the open-mouthed amazement of 1500 Japanese men and women as Myrna Loy, putting prettily because she thought Clark Gable had forgotten their wedding anniversary, came unexpectedly upon the diamond bracelet which the impish fellow had artfully concealed inside her breakfast trout."

Zanuck writes: "Let me say here and now that the motion pictures are an art form. And let me add with equal emphasis that motion pictures are also business—big business. The first answer to Mr. Rice, it seems to me, can be read in the record of what happened in Italy and Germany on the advent of the dictators. Among Mussolini's first moves was to seize control of the Italian motion picture industry and to ban all American pictures. Hitler did exactly the same thing when he seized power in Germany. Both acted from the same motives and the same fears. They were aware that American pictures, no matter how meaningless Mr. Rice seems to think them, portrayed a way of life and an independent attitude inimical to dictatorship. They knew that such pictures, if freely circulated in their countries, would in the end help destroy them."

PAUL SMALL is preparing another vaudeville show, "Star Time," which will feature Lou Holtz, Benny Fields, The Berry Brothers and The De Marcos. It is scheduled to open in San Francisco, come to Los Angeles, and then New York ... Metro wanted the glamazon, Barbara Thurston, for a role in "Ziegfeld Follies," and had to persuade her to leave her job with a gas company ... Merle Oberon, Lillian Hellman, R. C. Sherrif, and Walter Reisch, who were scheduled to go to England to work with Alexander Korda, have been informed that all permissions have been withdrawn, and they are all making other plans ... At Warners they made a government short on "How to Conserve Food," and the property man, Bud Friend, had to write to Washington to get food points in order to illustrate what foods shouldn't be eaten ... There is a local radio program called "Luxury Information Service," which tells the newly rich how to dress, where to dine, what to drink and how to tip.

HOLLYWOODIANA: Mike Curtiz listened to a playback of himself giving direction and said: "I don't understand myself. Now I can understand why other people don't understand me."

George Holland

Boston After Dark

MUTUAL DISLIKE OF DICK FORAN and Dick Rodgers, star and song-writing producer respectively of "Connecticut Yankee," has developed into the inevitable denouement of their frequent arguments ... Dick is quitting the show ... Jack Whiting, Broadway's perennial juvenile, has been hired to replace him, and will open with the show in Detroit ... This—at one time—would have been exciting news to good-looking young Eve Amber, the show's new "Queen Quiver" who may not yet have been informed of the change.

BEFORE THERE WAS any widespread talk of the impending Whiting replacement of Foran, Eve confided to reporters that she once held a strong school-girl crush for Jack ... It began when Whiting was making a picture in Denham (England) with Jessie Matthews, and the film was titled "Sailing Along" ... Young Eve, who was 14, visited the set and fell violently in schoolgirl love with Jack ... The English publicity had neglected to emphasize the fact that Actor Whiting was married to Beth Sully Fairbanks Whiting, and Eve thought that the red-haired leading man was an eligible American ... Mrs. Whiting—meet Miss Amber ... And don't worry ... There's a young American fighter-pilot who engages Miss Amber's heart this season.

HARRY RICHMAN'S EXTREME CHARM and superb showmanship is the highlight, of course, of the Latin Quarter show ... But the entire bill is one of those "once in a season" presentations ... Joan Barry is a marvellous dancer, and her high-kicks are reminiscent of those of Charlotte Greenwood ... Paul Remus and his lovable pair of midgets are enchanting, and Don Arden has not used the Latin Quarter's good-looking chorus line more effectively—ever ... Richman's act gets off to a great start through his dramatization of the late George M. Cohan's nostalgic "Give My Regards to Broadway," and after a few bars of the song, Harry's voice can be heard only as an undertone to the applause ... When he sings his medley of songs he introduced, such as "Exactly Like You" (which Jimmy McHugh of Jamaica Plain wrote), and "Putting on the Ritz" and "Crest of the Wave" and "Birth of the Blues" there is no entertainer in America who can evoke such fond appreciation from a nightclub audience.

AT THE MAYFAIR: an act named Jerri and Turk are tremendously funny ... This column found it consonant with its policy of helping newcomers to the difficult trade known as show business to remonstrate, a few seasons ago with Mr. Turk—the male half of the duo—against his dependence on "blue" gags and business to win an audience ... Mr. Turk is an assured, impassive, appealing young comedian of high stature today ... His is not nearly so "blue," and is vulgar no more than once ... His sad face and immobile gestures in a priceless burlesque of the American jitterbug species are irresistible ... This artistic and inspired bit from the Jerri and Turk routines belongs in somebody's motion picture, so that it may be preserved in celluloid ... The she-half of the team, the girl known as Jerri (she is Mr. Turk's real sister) is an elfin, agile, clinging little artist who has a comedy flair as powerful as her brother's ... If they can keep their act clean, Jerri and Turk can go—and fast—to the very top of their business. (But they undoubtedly won't believe it.)

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Helen MacInnes, author of "While Still We Live," will be paraded with cocktails at the Ritz Wednesday ... Jean Powell, 14-year-old star of "Song of the Open Road," will have the Boston United Artists' organization doing backends in getting out the press for Monday and Tuesday, with a luncheon Monday at the same Ritz-Canon.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY—you are practical, albeit idealistic and artistic. Stars indicate you are fair in dealings, reliable, high-minded and capable. Failings to overcome: Tendency to idleness, with a fondness for luxury. Have strong temper when angered by injustice, but are kindly and sympathetic when reached through reason. Talent for stage, politics, painting, surgery or nursing.

By AUSTEN LAKE

HERE'S EXASPERATION—A friend, who fancies his own astuteness in financial matters, sold 500 shares of Narragansett common stock last winter. With what seemed sound sense he reasoned that horse gambling was a precarious investment in the midst of war's uncertainty. So he took the market price of $3.25 a share and bought some industrial securities. Today Narragansett is selling at $10 while the other investment, in a reputable airplane company, is down 13 points. What price judgment?

HERE'S FICKLENESS—A recently arrived marine from the Solomons says that during a lull in a jungle fight between the Japs and Americans, the front lines exchanged mutual insults. The Americans shouted "across no man's land," "To hell with the Mikado," to which the Nips replied with the nastiest epithet they could set tongue to—"To hell with Babe Ruth."

Babe Ruth

"To hell with Babe Ruth." Incidentally I wonder what the old Barn has done with those Jewish gifts the Japs showered on him during his last baseball tour of the Orient—including the black silk kimono with the crimson collar and the white embroidered lettering which spelled "Ten thousand good wishes to Babe Ruth."

HERE'S CREDIT—A national magazine is soliciting opinions from baseball writers on "Who are the best managers in the major leagues?" This column's vote is: National—1. Bill McKechnie of the Reds; 2. Billy Southworth of the Cardinals; 3. Leo Durocher of Brooklyn; 4. Mel Ott of the Giants, American—1. Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox; 2. Connie Mack of the Athletics; 3. Joe McCarthy of the Yankees; 4. Del Baker of the Tigers. This judgment is not based on pennant successes where, usually the team makes the manager's reputation, but on the ability of the manager to gauge human nature and translate the best effort of the men. McKechnie and Mack are of the school of "quiet" persuasion. Dykes and Durocher are the dictatorial types. The rest are the exemplary, "follow-me-men" sort.

HERE'S TRADITION—The Derby is to Louisville on Saturday what the Hambletonian is to Goshen in August and the Harvard-Yale regatta was to New London each June—the one big traditional moment when sleepy little towns roused from a year-long lethargy and harpooned cash bearing strangers. The truth is that the Kentucky Derby was just a local horse-breeders' carnival until the stage melodrama, "My Old Kentucky Home" was written in the early 1900's. It was a much show replete with theatrical drip and honeysuckle hokey, born in a Bowery boy's brain and built around the pretty daughter of an impoverished southern family, blooded colt, rich city boy, dirty work in the stables and the climax with a couple of cab nags, lashed to a treadmill raced in a realistic struggle. The play was a priceless triumph of free advertising which raised the Kentucky Derby from the level of a medicine show to the national, gold-star feature of the U. S. turf.

HERE'S PROGRESS—In a recent photo of the Detroit Municipal Council who should be prominently seated in the piousness of liberative session but Billy Rogell, the old Red Sox and Tiger shortstop, Billy is now a full grown adult with family and civic responsibilities. But we of Boston remember him as an oafish colt with a bulge of sucking tobacco in the fold of his cheek, his cap turned sidewise and given to shrill bird-like screams. He would do cartwheels, nips and headstands during exhibition games and perform such lunar folly that Bob Quinn, the then boss, was constantly trying in his own fat and saying sadly, "If I could only saw off the top of his head and inject a brain or two." But Time has done what Bob could not and Rogell has become exalted, industrious and full of elder dignity.

HERE'S LEGAL FORM—A recent bench warrant issued for a Boston horse bookmaker read: "For registering bets on a certain lottery upon the result of a contest of speed, skill and endurance of a certain beast: to wit a horse."

HERE'S RECOGNITION—Philadelphia sportswomen have created a Wilmer Crowell memorial trophy to be awarded annually to the outstanding college athlete. This brings a sentimental echo through the years. Because Crowell was the writer's football coach at Lafayette, a whimsical blend of a mountain preacher, a hard-knuckled cowhand, and a bouncer in a Bowery barroom. Once, to the writer's great discredit, Wilmer caught me smoking a corn cob during the height of football training. And though he spoke no word, the sudden calcium glint in his eye made me bite the hardwood stem in halves. I broke two teeth. Some years later when Crowell and I were officials in a Harvard game I asked him why he never mentioned my sin in the days that followed. "Well," he said, "there are times silence and uncertain feelings of impending punishment are the cruelest penalties there are. I'll be you never broke training again." I never did!

HERE'S CASH COURAGE—Autopsical date has given mournful proof that, until now, Boston has not fostered professional football. Four different syndicates have tried and failed because Boston was educated to the pageantry, youthful enthusiasm and tradition of the college game and did not find a convincing substitute in the dull, mechanical efficiency and clinical artificialities of the pro game. Still, with the coming of war, the city is in a sport starved state and with plenty of fresh spending funds will probably adopt the National League Yankees. The college game is in moth balls for the duration and with adroit promotion and a little financial darning the pro game may take root.

Bartolo 10-8 Choice

By JACK CONWAY

Sal Bartolo of East Boston is a 10 to 8 favorite to successfully defend his world featherweight championship against Phil Terranova of New York in a 15-round bout at the Garden tonight. The supporters of the local youngster are confident him to turn back the sturdy surges of Terranova.

Bartolo became champion when he outscored Terranova in a tussle at the Garden less than two months ago. In that engagement, Sal's dazzling speed and knowledge of the fine points of the boxing game carried him to victory. Terranova proved he was an aggressive, two-fisted fighter, but Bartolo displayed enough skill to win the unanimous decision.

TERRANOVA CONFIDENT

Terranova feels that he will reverse the score tonight. He plans to set the pace from the opening gong and he is of the opinion he will toss enough leather to gain the verdict.

There is intense interest in the title bout and it is expected there will be more than 13,000 persons in the Garden when the rival featherweights start tossing blows. With a $5 top, it is estimated that the show will gross $35,000.

Bartolo and Terranova will weigh in at 125 pounds. Neither boxer has experienced any difficulty getting down to the required weight.

East Boston will turn out for Bartolo tonight. The ticket sale in the Noodle Island area has passed the $5000 mark which gives an idea of the drawing power of Sal in his home section.

STARTED ON AMATEURS

It was as an All-America champion from East Boston that Bartolo first distinguished himself. He won the New England title and then went to New York where he defeated the best amateurs of his weight in the country. Sal went on from there to become a world's champion.

It will be the old story of the boxer against the fighter tonight. Bartolo will be the flashy, finished boxer, while Terranova will rely upon his aggressiveness and the dynamite in his wallop to regain his title. This type of bout is usually replete with action.

Boxing Commissioners Sam Smith and Daz Wadsworth will name the officials for the bout at ring time. They asserted today that both boxers are certain to receive fair treatment from the two judges and referee who will have charge of the Garden bout.

Hammering Henry Armstrong, former world's triple champion, made a surprise visit to Boston to confer with Matchmaker Rip Valenti of the Goodwin Club. He has agreed to meet any opponent Valenti names for a Garden show next Friday night. It is expected that Armstrong will be at the ringside when Bartolo and Terranova clash tonight.

Coleman's Wrath Sparks Tribal Win

By BILL GRIMES

Although he is fairly amiable today, Manager Bob Coleman must have been poor company while the Braves were in Philadelphia and Brooklyn.

We first met Bob Coleman when he was a coach of the Red Sox under Manager Lee Fohl back in 1928. But we didn't see him after that season until 1937, when Bob Quinn took over the Braves and Coleman came to St. Petersburg, Fla., to assist Manager Bill McKechnie during the spring training sessions. For the last seven years, Bob Coleman has been with the Braves every spring.

Despite the fact that with the exception of last season, Coleman was with the Varsity for only about four or five weeks each

22 High Schools In Track Meet

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Schoolboy track will come out of hiding tomorrow afternoon for a glimpse of the sports spotlight from Manning Bowl, Lynn, where close to 300 leg artists, representing 22 high schools, will be competing in the second annual North Shore Relay Carnival—swinging into action at exactly 2 p. m.

All told, there'll be 27 events on the program and unless mess directors Lew Thistle, Lynn English; Belden Bly, Saugus, and manager, Capt. Charles Prentiss, U. S. Army, miss their guesses, it'll be all over within two hours. Four clerks of court have been appointed to keep the teams moving into place to assure the fans that there'll be plenty of action from start to finish.

Like the State meet, competition will be in two classes. In addition, there'll be a special half-mile relay for the four Lynn junior high schools.

Brookline High School, defending champion in Class A, will be risking its title to the threats of seven rivals, topped off by the classy Malden and Medford squads. Other A entries include Lowell, Lawrence, Everett, Lynn Classical and Lynn English. Of this group, Lowell, Lawrence and the two Lynn schools were barred from State meet honors this past winter by a ruling of the Headmasters' Ass'n.

CAMBRIDGE FAVORITE
Cambridge Latin, installed the early favorite in Class B, will be meeting top opposition from Melrose and Arlington. Others battling for the B crown include defending champion Winchester, St. John's of Danvers, Gloucester, Swampscott, Saugus, St. Mary's of Lynn, Central Catholic of Lawrence, Malden, Catholic, Missions of Roxbury, Dover, N. H., the dark horse with eight competitors, and Boston College High.

Meet officials expected that records in all four relays—the 440, 880, the mile and the nine-man to one mile and three-quarter relay—will be broken.

In the Mailbag: It's evident that there are a lot of Boston fellows belting them out in sports behind the front lines in Italy as well as in the lines . . . a boxscore of a softball game reveals that Bill Brickley of the famous sports family in Everett High history belted out a home run and a double . . . he was playing for the Boston Ragpickers (all married men from the Hub) against the New York Hoboes (bachelors from New York) . . . incidentally, Brickley's brother Charlie is in Guadalcanal and brother Ray is in training with the Air Corps . . . the box score didn't further identify the Boston boys except for last names . . . maybe you can identify Bourbeau, Charros, Bettencourt, Morrell, Blain, Cashman, Carey, Budd or Bumford, all players for the Boston team.

Although finally beaten yesterday by Medford, 8-5, English High, which took Norwood, 21-3, Wednesday, is still very much in the running for a berth in the Schoolboy Writers' tournament—depending on the Boston headmasters in whose hands the decision lies. All that august group has to do is change its earlier ruling and English may be in, despite the loss to the Mustangs.

N. E. Bike Clubs On Yearly Tour

The bicycle clubs of New England will make their annual tour to Houghton's Pond in the Blue Hills Sunday. This tour has kept clubs from all over the six New England States in contact with one another for a good many years. The clubs not only send representatives but in some cases most of the members turn out for the event. At least three generations of bicycle riders come to each of these tours. The younger members pick up pointers from old time track and road champions while the "great men of yesterday" tell of their past experiences. Riders, both men and women, are expected from the following clubs:

Brockton Cycle Club of Brockton; Cambridge Cycle and Sports Club of Cambridge; Hartford Cycle Club of Hartford; Le Chemineau Cycle Club of Hartford; North Quincy Cycle Club of Quincy; North Quincy Cycle Club of Quincy; Old Timers Association of Cambridge; Sprocketers Cycle Club of Worcester; Worcester Cycle Club of Worcester; Yankee Wheelmen of Providence.

Sea of Mud for Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5 (AP)—Challenge Me, winner of the Arkansas Derby, was the first name dropped into the Kentucky Derby entry box this morning as rain, which had been almost continuous for 30 hours, turned the racing strip into a sea of slop and mud and forecast the first muddy Derby since Clyde Van Dusen won in 1929.

Challenge Me, who will carry the silks of O. E. Breault of Chicago, was entered by his trainer, Al Cataldo, after the box had been opened nearly an hour. The Chicago-owned son of Challenger 22, also was the only hope of a Louisville triumph as he was bred by Lieut. Warner L. Jones, Jr., a resident of this city and director of Churchill Downs.

"Mud moves him up many pounds," said Cataldo. "He's sharp as a tack. He never blew better in the mud than he did this morning."

ALORTER WANTS MUD

Within a few minutes the names of Mrs. A. J. Abel's Gramps Image and A. C. Ernst's Alorter were in the box with word from Jack Skirvin, trainer of Alorter, that the more it rained the happier he would be. He reminded questioners that Alorter won his most important 1943 victory in the Cowdin Stakes at Aqueduct over a sloppy track.

Whitey Abel, who'll saddle his wife's Gramp's Image, didn't make

BULLETIN

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5 (AP)—Meteorologist E. E. Unger studied his charts and forecast fair and cooler weather for tomorrow's Kentucky Derby. It had been raining here intermittently for 48 hours and still was raining when Unger made his forecast, but he said the skies would clear tonight and the temperature would drop considerably.

his entry, but sent word that the Chesapeake Stakes winner would go regardless, but he would prefer a faster racing strip than was indicated by today's weather conditions.

Big Charlie Sanborn was given a great reception by the crowd gathered in the racing secretary's office when he entered Dave Ferguson's Bell Buzzer of Detroit. Sanborn said he had started the son of Bel Aethel only once in the mud and that he wasn't enthusiastic over the conditions.

Harold Hathaway, who is handling Autocrat in the absence of the colt's owner-trainer, A. A. Baroni, dropped the name of the gelded son of Zaccawest in the box with the comment: "He is a superior mudder."

GAVER OKAYS MUD

John Gaver, the Princeton graduate, followed with the entry of the favored Stir Up from Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greenlee Stable. Asked if Stir Up liked mud, he replied:

"Yes, sir." Right behind him came J. F. (Red) Baker with the entry of M. B. Goff's Sky Tracer, the lanky colt who gave Stir Up an argument in the Flamingo Stakes. Baker also was satisfied with the track conditions.

Raymond White, only Negro training a Derby colt, entered

Lineup for 70th Derby

LOUISVILLE, May 5 (AP)—Probable lineup for tomorrow's running of the Kentucky Derby with owners, jockeys and probable odds:

HORSE	OWNER	JOCKEY	ODDS
STIR UP	Mrs. Payne Whitney	Eddie Arcaro	7-5
PENSIVE	Warren Wright	Conn McCreary	6-1
CHALLENGE ME	O. E. Breault	Tony Skoronski	10-1
SKYTRACER	M. B. Goff	Mike Caffarella	4-1
ROADCLOT	Mrs. George Poulsen	George Wolf	8-1
GRAMPS IMAGE	Mrs. A. J. Abel	Otto Grohs	12-1
ALORTER	A. C. Ernst	Johnny Adams	20-1
BELLBUZZER	Dave Ferguson	Billy Thomson	15-1
AUTOCRAT	A. A. Baroni	Farril Zufelt	25-1
BRIEF SIGN	Robert J. Diest	Venancio Nodarse	50-1
SEUT UP	Joe Goldband	Ralph Eccard	15-1
GAY BIT	Robert Bruce Livie	Jack Westrope	30-1
DIABOLAV	W. C. Hobson	Joe Molbert	40-1
COMENOW	Philip Godfrey	J. R. Layton	60-1
AMERICAN EAGLE	J. V. Maggio	Jim Thornburg	100-1
VALLEY FLARES	B. R. Paton	George Burns	100-1
ROCKWOOD BOY	W. C. Davis	Bill Bailey	100-1

(The above lineup is based on each individual horse. After the entries are complete all over nine considered to be the weakest members by the track handicapper will be grouped in the "field" for betting purposes.)

American Eagle, owned by J. V. Maggio of Chicago, with the comment:

"We've got this far and there's no need to turn back now. It makes no difference about anything."

Seventy-year-old Phil Reilly came in with W. C. Hobson's Diabolav and made no bones about saying that he would instruct Jockey Joe Molbert to go to the front and stay there as long as possible. As for mud, it makes no difference with the Nashville-owned colt, said Reilly.

PRIDDY ENTERS SHUT UP

Shut Up, the sensation of the final week of training with a 2:05 3-5 workout for the Derby distance a mile and one-quarter, was the 10th entry. Owned by Joe Goldbrand's Erlanger stable, the brown gelding was entered by 29-year-old Ray Priddy with the comment:

"He appears to be able to handle mud, but I'm not too hot about it."

Rotund Rolie Shepp galloped Brief Sign from Robert J. Diest's

BULLETIN

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5 (AP)—While a light rain kept intact a string of 34 hours of moisture that turned Churchill Downs' racing strip into a sea of slop and mud, 18 horses were entered today for the 70th running of the Kentucky Derby tomorrow.

River Divide Farm two miles and then brought in his entry with: "He can carry me (Rolie must weigh 225) a mile in 1:40 on any kind of a track."

Pinky Browne, veteran exercise boy, was given the honor of entering Warren Wright's Pensive, who in the words of Trainer Ben Jones is only a fair mudder. Pensive's entry was No. 16 with the names of W. C. Davis' Rockwood Boy and B. R. Paton's Valley Flares expected before the box closed at 10:30 a. m.

CYO Bowling Tourney

Nineteen teams will be battling for top honors in the fifth annual CYO Bowling Tournament to be held tonight at the Huntington Bowling Alleys on Huntington ave. There'll be a dozen teams in the women's division and seven in the men's. Fifty keglers will be competing in the singles.

Williams, Kennedy In Same Squad

PENSACOLA, Fla., May 5 (AP)—Two former American League rivals, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, outfield, and Bob Kennedy of the Chicago White Sox, infield, have been assigned to the same squadron as Marine Corps pilot-instructors at the Naval Air Training Station here.

Williams, 25, native of San Diego, Cal., and league batting champion in 1941 and 1942, won his wings Tuesday. Kennedy, 23, a native of Chicago, won his wings several months ago.

Stengel Off For Conference

GLENDAL, Cal., May 5 (AP)—Casey Stengel, veteran major league baseball manager and former pilot of the Boston National League Club, left here today for what he said was "a baseball conference somewhere in the Middle West."

Stengel would not discuss a newsman's question concerning whether he had received an offer to manage the Chicago Cubs, nor would he say he was going directly to Chicago.

Jimmy Wilson, former manager of the Phillies and a World Series star with Cincinnati, left the Cubs recently and the Wrigley team now is being handled temporarily by Roy Johnson.

McSpaden, Nelson, Wood in Same Tilt

CHICAGO, May 5 (INS)—Three of the great names of tournament golf were added today to the entry list of the $10,000 Victory national championship to be held at the Edgewater Golf Club from June 28 to July 2.

They were Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., duration holder of the U. S. Canadian and Metropolitan open titles; Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., duration masters open champ, and Harold "Jug" McSpaden who with Nelson has almost dominated American golf for the last 12 months.

$700,000 War Bonds Bought at Gansett

The Narragansett track announced that close to $700,000 in war bonds had been subscribed during the day which was observed as War Bond Day. The association bought $300,000 in bonds itself and the remainder came from subscriptions from patrons, horsemen and jockeys.

Dean After Cubs' Berth

CHICAGO, May 5 (INS)—The identity of the man who will become permanent manager of the eighth-place Chicago Cubs still was undisclosed today, but a new candidate for the job popped up, none other than Dixie Dean, the one-time great pitcher.

General Manager James T. Gallagher displayed a postcard he had received from St. Louis which said:

"Me, the one and only Dix Dean, can manage your Cubs like nobody's business."

Mate Pays

Mrs. Marie Shaffer weeps on the shoulder of Deputy Sheriff Mary Muscatto in Chicago court after her husband, Frank, was sentenced to 45 years in prison for slaying his 5-year-old step-daughter, Lettie Joyce. Mrs. Shaffer had testified against her husband.

Drowns

Dr. A. D. Norton and firemen work over the body of John Wharton, 21, of Margin st., Hyde Park, in vain attempt to revive the youth who drowned in the Neponset river when stricken with cramps while swimming. The drowning was one of the first of the season.
